On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny county, Mr. Howarth.

The SPEAKER. Will the Gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOWARTH. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman explain his bill.

Mr. HOWARTH. Mr. Speaker, the object of this bill is to eliminate all the difficulties that have arisen by reason of borough lines previously established running through a plan of lots that were laid out afterwards. The property owners that have their lots divided by a borough line have had to pay taxes in two different boroughs, have had to straighten out many complications up to the present time and it makes it a hardship on the property owners. I have heard many of them express their opinion that they would like to have that eliminated and this bill is drawn up for that purpose, to help each property owner to have his lot assessed in a particular borough. The bill states that it is not compulsory to be in any section or any other borough but it is left to a two-thirds majority, a good majority of the borough's council or the township commissioner that are affected and after that any citizen has a right to appeal to the court if he thinks he has not been treated right, but I feel safe in saying that no citizen will ever appeal to the court.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill to my mind is a bill directly in opposition to that which the people of the County of Allegheny and especially those contingent to the City of Pittsburgh have unalterably opposed and fought in this House for the last three or four sessions. I disagree with the gentleman from Allegheny when he says that many people who own such properties have appealed for a correction of his so-called evil in the paying of taxes in a township and a borough. The scope of this bill may take in a considerable territory and I believe it is the right of the people of any borough or any township to say by vote on it, whether they shall or whether they shall not become a part of another borough or a city or another township. Now this gives a man who owns property no redress only by appealing to court and in many instances, council and councilmen, as you all know, for some particular reasons are oftimes misled, and for some unknown cause will do as some large corporations or a large land company would have them do. Now the council in my borough, which I represent, in Allegheny county, objects seriously to this bill because they feel that they should not be compelled to settle a dispute of this kind. Therefore I hope that the House, in its wisdom, will grant us the right, as taxpayers of our borough and of our respective township, to decide whether we shall or shall not become a part of any other borough or any other township, or if you please, the City of Pittsburgh. Furthermore, in this bill it specifically states that if two-thirds of the members of council shall vote affirmatively on both sides that it shall pass, that it shall be agreed that this switch may be made. I am of the opinion, not as an attorney, but I believe that in specifying that in the act, you are taking the constitutional right away from the Burgess in his veto. Therefore, I believe that even if this House should pass the bill that the bill in itself is not constitutional. I hope that this House will not pass this bill at this time.

Mr. HOWARTH. Mr. Speaker, I take excepton to that last remark from the gentleman from Allegheny, that the bill will not be constitutional. In the Municipal Corporation Committee we thrashed that out, and the question was asked that we send to Allegheny and get the opinion of the Allegheny County Solicitor as to its constitutionality. Mr. Stein, of Allegheny, attended to that and found that the bill was entirely constitutional beyond a question.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Senate Bill No. 338 (House Bill No. 881).

Requiring and regulating the declaring and posting of the vote at election districts at a primary election.

Referred to the Committee on Elections.

RESOLUTION FIXING DAY OF FINAL ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. BALDWIN offered the following resolution which was twice read:

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly adjourn sine die on Thursday, May sixth, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, at twelve o'clock noon.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will lie over for printing.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, that resolution does not lie over for printing. It comes up for immediate action under Rule 66. It is one of the exempted resolutions.

The SPEAKER. The Chair withdraws his decision.

The question is on the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. GIBSON. I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, it is specifically provided under the Rules of the House that this is not one of the resolutions to lie over and be printed. It is a resolution that is so simple that every Member in the House comprehends just what it means. This resolution was introduced by the Member from Delaware after a very careful canvass of the Members of the House on this subject. I did not find in my inquiry through the House a single objection to this resolution. I did not want to say what I am going to say. I hoped the resolution would pass without my calling the House's attention to conditions that have existed here and that have been very much against my wishes. I realize that my party has pledged the people one thing over and above all others and I believe that the people of the State, irrespective of party, feel that we owed this matter to them, namely, that our legislative body, when it came to Harrisburg, would get right down to business, get the business of this body carefully considered and disposed of and adjourned sine die and save the State every dollar that we could.

I want to say to the members of this House who have not taken the trouble to examine into the proposition, that it costs about forty thousand dollars a month—and I am speaking conservatively, too—every month that this legislative body is in session. Now that is the expense of running this legislature. If we can save one week for the State in performing these duties we will save ten thousand dollars. We have now been in session over two months. I don't believe I can say that—at least within my memmory—any legislative body has given as few days and as few hours to the consideration of the business that has been presented to us. If this consideration continues we will have failed to keep one of the pledges to the people that every one of us know we should keep and can keep. After an experience of several years here I can say to the Members of the House that the business atmosphere of this House will change in such a marked degree when you have decided on a day for adjournment sine die that you will be surprised that some Member of this House of experience had not taken this action earlier in the session.

Now it, in my opinion, offers ample time to consider and dispose of the business that is in front of us. I want to say to the members that if this House were to stay in session for twelve months bills will be continually coming in, the most of them on trivial matters; so that there is no necessity, in my estimation, for additional time over the sixth of May to give consideration to the legislation that we will have to consider if we will only work as we used to work twenty years ago, every day, and never adjourn until Friday. When I came to this House twenty years ago there was no thought of adjourning this House until Friday; and if you will examine the rules of this House you will find in the rules a provision for the rule of order on Friday and there is nobody here yet found any necessity for that rule for Thursday until this week; so that I do hope that the House will pass this resolution and save the State and from this on say we are willing to work five days in the week. It is an outrage and a shame that men in this State will have to come from two to three hundred miles and have to stay here five days out of every seven and wait to work two days.

Now I, perhaps, imagine that through the minds of some of the members may be going this thought: That we have kept the calendar clear. Yes: but when has there been any time to hold committee meetings, if you adjourn on Tuesday night or Wednesday morning? Why, there is absolutely no time to bring the legislation out of the committees and put it on the calendar so that we can proceed with our business as we should do.

Now, if this House don't want to pass this resolution there is one member at least who can say that it is not his fault, and those who do not think we ought to can carry that responsibility.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, on the question of experience I yield to the member from Delaware, and I am always willing to take his advice and guidance on the affairs of the House because of his years of experience in legislative matters, but it does seem to me that at this day, a day when a large proportion of the members of the House are absent, and when the resolution has just been presented, that it is premature for this House to decide on a day of adjournment. It is a matter of great importance, the fixing of the day of adjournment. I do not say that the day suggested in the resolution is too soon or too late, but I do say it is a matter which ought to be given very careful consideration and all the members of the House should have the opportunity to think it over and decide for themselves whether or not the work of their particular committees, on bills in which they are particularly interested, can be properly presented before the House and considered before that particular date.

The gentleman from Delaware is exactly correct in saying that the House ought to work five days a week. It is a hardship on the members from the western part of the State to remain here idle, but this resolution does not necessarily correct that evil, or does not necessarily cure that ill. It is within the power of the House to stay in session until Friday, and the fact that it has extended the session this week, at least an extra day, indicates it is getting into the spirit of hard work, which I think will continue, and the end desired by this resolution will be accomplished without premature and hasty decision on a point which is of too great importance to be fixed without due consideration.

Mr. HENRY I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, the question before the House is the consideration of the motion to send the resolution to the Committee on Rules. Now, a vote "Aye" would be to send the resolution to the committee on Rules, and a vote "No" would be to consider the resolution at this time. I am not sure, but it would seem to me that there are enough here to consider this question. I think the House wants to be fair, but I think it is the duty of the House to express itself as to how it feels on this uestion pretty soon, and I think that if we would send this resolution over to the Senate and put it up to the gentlemen that who have not been working any too long a time, that they will take notice at least of what we are thinking, and they would have a right, wouldn't they, to amend it or act upon it as they saw fit.

It is not my desire to embarrass any person, but it does seem that those of us who come from the western end of the State have been called upon to come here for about two months and a little better and await the notion of some gentleman on the other side. Now I am willing to give them all the time they need. If the date mentioned is not the right time, let them change that, but so far as I am concerned that date is satisfactory, and why need we, if we all agree upon that date, unless there is some good reason for it, wait for some expression on it. If there is any other motive behind it for holding it up, I do not know it and I would like to have it made known to me so I can vote intelligently, but if it is a mere expression of our own ideas. I do not see any harm in acting upon the resolution here. As far as I am concerned, I am ready to consider it at this time, but I do not want to be insistent if somebody can give a good reason. But just as the matter stands I am opposed to sending the resolution to the Committee on Rules, but am in favor of considering it now.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, my friend from Chester said about all that can be said against considering this resolution at the present time: namely, the men that are not here now and have not been here, must have an opportunity to have a voice on this proposition. The men that have stayed here and have objected to going away are here now, and they are the men that ought to have the voice, and if you wait until the men who have not been staying here come back Monday night, you may lose your opportunity. Now is the time to consider this matter, you who are interested in the question of whether this House shall continue to stay here and do its work. If you want to wait until men that are constantly running away, and who stay one day or two days, and perhaps only half a day, you may have it voted down. You are the interested parties and now is the time to consider it and express your opinion.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, the applause that greets the gentleman from Delaware in all his witty remarks indicates that there are a good many members in the House and perhaps not so many are absent, as he suggests. However, in looking toward my friend, Mr. Wilson, who asked for the real reason. I notice there is not a seat occupied, although they are pretty far apart.

The reason, the substantial reasons, why it should not be considered at this time are that within the next week the most important bills which will come before the House during the session, will probably be on the calendar for consideration. I understand that most of those five or six important measures are in such shape that they will be on the calendars next week. It will then be very easy for the Committee on Rules to consider how much time will be required to consider those bills properly and what date they can fix conveniently for adjournment. The chairman of the Committee on Rules is not here, and the committee has not lately had a meeting, but as one of its members, I can state to the Speaker and to the House that if this resolution is referred to the Committee, it will be promptly considered next week and a date suggested to the House.

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as I started this trouble ten days ago I want to say a word on it now. If you look up House Resolutions No. 6, File Folio 1679, you will see that I introduced a resolution in this House, afterward made a Concurrent Resolution, which should not have been done, as it relates solely to the business of this House, and as you remember that resolution set a time, the Seventeenth of March, as the last day when bills would be received in the House for passage at this session. I stated at that time that my object in presenting such a resolution was to expedite the business of the House and hasten the day for adjournment sine die. I want to say that I endorse heartily the position taken by the gentleman from Delaware. I am not the spokesman for the Allegheny County delegation, but I really believe, Mr. Speaker, that they will all vote to a man on this resolution. I am sorry he did not make it a week earlier. I think the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will be greatly relieved when this session adjourns before we pass too much fool legislation.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me in view of the large number of vacant seats in this House this morning, that no harm could come to this body, or to the interests of the State, if this matter were postponed until Monday evening. If the gentlemen who are in favor of this resolution wish to force its consideration now, it seems to be in their power to do so, but it does not look to me as a fair and square thing. It does not look to me as though proper courtesy were being extended to the gentlemen of the several important committees of this House who have had more to do with directing the business of this House than anybody else. I refer to the chairman of the Judiciary General Committee, Mr. Wilson, and also to the chairman of the Law and Order Committee, Mr. Williams, both of which committees have and will have important legislation to which the Party is pledged, and certainly if anybody should have something to say as to whether or not this is a proper time to adjourn, these gentlemen ought to be heard.

It is simply a matter of fairness, Mr. Speaker. It seems to me this resolution ought fairly to go to the Committee on Rules, with the understanding that it will be reported out for action on Monday evening, when we will have a full house.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, it was not my intention to take part in this debate this morning, but I wish to call the attention of the House to one fact. In the session of 1913, at this time, at this date, there were over fifteen hundred bills in this House. Today there are less than nine hundred. Now, doesn't this seem just a bit right that we should take this into consideration. Surely if the House of 1913 could pass the Workmen's Compensation Act, introduced in February, voted the following March, the 25th, this House could do the same. I am sure the Chairman of the Judiciary General Committee is just as able, just as capable, and the members of that committee are just as capable as the members of the committee two years ago, and I for one would consider it a reflection upon the ability of the members of this House if we were not to take this into consideration.

Two years ago we adjourned on June 27th: this is dated May 6th. Why surely, with this great decrease in the number of bills in the House at this time, we can get through. We can work a little bit longer, and make it Thursday or Friday if you please, and I say there is no reason why this consideration should be postponed until Monday evening. It is clear to me, from the sound that reaches my ears, that there are a great number present this morning, probably twenty-five less than will be here Monday night. Why not settle this question? The people of this State are sick and tired of seeing their members back on the streets in the districts on a Tuesday or a Wednesday. When I go home to my district on a Wednesday afternoon I am heartily ashamed of myself. I am ashamed to get into my carriage and go up that old road to my farm, because I know the people think I have run away from Harrisburg; tney have the impression that I have deliberately quit and come home.

Let us be honest with the people of this State. Let us discuss this proposition: then if we cannot get through, we can change it. We have the power; we have the authority. What are we afraid of? We are afraid of ourselves.

Mr. SONES. Mr. Speaker, I have had the same experience as my friend, Mr. Lanius. Whenever I go home nearly every one seems to say "Back already." If I step into any public places or places of business, the first thing that confronts me is the question "What are you fellows doing back already?"

I hold in my hand a clipping from the Pottsville Journal, of March 4th, which is as follows: "Although two months time has elapsed since the 1915 session of the Legislature was convened, neitner the House nor Senate has been in session thirty hours in all. Actually, the House has been in session a total of twenty-nine hours, having met twenty-one times."

Now, Mr. Speaker, I took this clipping along with me with the intention of speaking on this subject on Monday evening and put myself on record as being opposed to this delay. I wish to place myself on record in the eyes of my people that I am willing to come here and spend my time five days each week in order to put our legislation through. I had this in mind and then I thought to myself, 'hold on; you are a young member and perhaps you had better not.' I carried this clipping in my pocket, however, and I see this morning that there are other gentlemen, members of this House, of the same opinion as I am, who have the same sentiments as to their duties to their constituents in their districts as I have of my duties to the constituents in my own district, and I wish to say that I am in favor of disposing of this resolution, accepting it, and then getting down to the business of this House.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I want to say a word to the new members of this House. There are one hundred and forty new members who are here. I notice that the press of Western Pennsylvania, especially in the smaller districts, criticize us. They dub us as the "kindergarten legislators" and we will be held responsible. The members who have been here for several sessions don't need to care whether this Legislature adjourns in May or September. They have one hundred and forty of we fellows here who are here for the first time sitting in the rear ranks of civilization. They can say "It was their fault because they represented a majority of the House." I appeal to the one hundred and forty new men here to stand together in having this adjournment date settled now. If we are dubbed the "kindergarten legislators" of 1915 and we are to go through this life with this charge on our shoulders we ought to do one of two things: We ought to settle the day of adjournment and work diligently, and we ought to in addition work seven days out of the week, if that were possible, so that we could advance at least to the first grade on the day this Legislature adjourns. If we are supposed to stay in session all summer the only other thing we ought to do is to adjourn for a week and hold a teachers' institute after the practice of the schools of this State. I appeal to the new men, the fellows in the rear ranks of civilization, to see to it that this question is decided this morning.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I really don't care to discuss this motion any further but I do want to call the attention of the House to a misapprehension, apparently, in the minds of the last three speakers—that my motion to commit this resolution to the Committee on Rules is for the purpose of delaying the adjournment. It is not that at all. The committing of this resolution to the Committee on Rules is a matter that may as well be settled and it may be very well to commit it to that Committee on Rules which may recommend a date earlier even than the resolution calls for. It is not a question whether or not we are willing to work and expedite the business of the House, but it is at present a matter of whether or not we should fix the date of adjournment with a great many members of the House absent and without a full opportunity on their part to be heard.

I do not agree with the gentleman from Armstrong who considers it a "kindergarten House" or that this resolution if not brought up to-day shows any kindergarten tactics in politics. On the contrary it is a question in regard to this resolution that at this time it be postponed only in order that many members now absent from this House may be here and may have an opportunity to be heard.

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, I think this resolution does not properly belong to the Committee on Rules. It is not such a resolution as should go to that committee. If I properly understand the rules of procedure the resolution introduced by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Baldwin, under the rules and custom of procedure of this House, it should be settled now and not referred to that "graveyard" committee, that of the Committee on Rules. On the other hand, I have always maintained the policy to show to my brother members the very best courtesy and legislative consideration possible, and I believe no one could accuse me of ever having violated that, but I contend this morning and I have contended in the past session and will still continue to contend that those members who shirk their duties and go away from these sessions on Tuesday or Wednesday of the week and leave we fellows who usually do the hard work at the end of the session—I contend that they deserve no consideration or courtesy and are not entitled to have these matters held over for their approval. The goegraphical conditions of this State are peculiar for some of us members. It is a long hard ride; some of us who get on a Pennsylvania Railroad train and jaunt three to four hundred miles to our homes, consuming two days of travel, in order to keep our little business together that we have left sitting idle when we came to this session, while those who live nearby, in Philadelphia, or in some of the other nearby towns who come over here late on Monday nights and possibly get back on Tuesday or Wednesday and may be able to put in almost a full week at home. It is not a fair deal to those members of the House who want to get down to work and finish the business of this session. Two years ago, this question was debated pro and con in this House and it seemed to be the policy at that time that we should set a date for adjournment. Finally one morning we crowded it over notwithstanding the opposition of our worthy Speaker, Mr. Alter, and even on the very day in which we passed this resolution there was a different atmosphere in this House; a different complexion came over this House; the committees were full; bills began to come out; the members stayed here and instead of the Speaker being required to sweat drops of blood on Wednesday morning for fear that there might not be a quorum here, the whole House was full and we got down to business. This being the eleventh day of March and the resolution set the sixth day of May for adjournment which gives us ample time to thoroughly consider the legislation before this Assembly. It gives us full and ample time to carry out the platform pledges of every party represented in this Assembly. I hope the members of the House will vote "No" on this motion to refer this resolution to the Committee on Rules and then vote "Aye" on the consideration of the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am a little amazed at the attitude of the gentleman from Erie which he has just taken in what he has said about the shirking of duty and staying away from the sessions of the House and doing the work of the Assembly, and I am also a little surprised at the attitude that the older speakers are taking in their statements, which to my mind would tend to mislead new members, and the mere fact that postponing consideration of it is in some miraculous manner going, of itself, to prevent adjournment of the House on the sixth day of May. How in the world it can hurt any of those who vote on this on Monday instead of Thursday morning, I don't know; that is a matter I cannot see. The gentleman from Erie says he stands for fair play. I know he does. I have been in the House with him before and I know the sort of man he is, but is it fair play to call up a resolution of this sort this morning, at this time? Look around; look at the empty desks. Every man who sits at one of those desks whether he is here to-day or not is just as vitally interested in this question as any one of you gentlemen who are here. Undoubtedly, every man will be here on Monday night. Now, why can you not postpone action until Monday night? What is being done to-day would not delay the hour of adjournment one day or one hour. It is fair and only fair. I don't know how many members are in the House this morning; I am not justifying the men who have gone away and as my friend from Erie says, possibly shirking their duty. I say there are gentlemen away this morning who have not missed a single session in this House since the opening. Is it fair to take up a matter and vote upon a question as important as this is in their absence? I say it is not. To my mind, this resolution is as important as anything as we can have before us; as important as any bill that we may have on the calendar, because it means that we are going to now say, two months ahead of the time fix, no matter what legislation is tending,; no matter what we have failed to do; no matter what is before us, we are going to adjourn on the sixth of May. I ask you to postpone this question or refer it to the Committee on Rules. (Calls of No, No, all over the House). Inasmuch as your minds are made up, I suppose it is not worth while for anyone to say any more.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I am heartily in favor of the adoption of this resolution for the reason that I am in the same position as the gentleman from York, Mr. Lanius. When I go back to my district on a Wednesday afternoon and walk out through the country roads in the farming district and see those industrious farmers working in their fields, they stop and say "There goes our representative at Harrisburg; why do we send him to the Legislature? Do we send him up there to work for us or send him home to walk along the roads and see us work?" I would be in favor of continuing the session of this Legislature until next week at this time without an intermission or adjournment because I am informed that at least a dozen delegations are waiting at my house to see me when I arrive for an interview and I would rather stay here and attend to my work than be interviewed at my house at home. In regard to my good friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Forster, speaking of the vacant seats around this House today I want to say where is there a vacant seat on the side of the House reserved for the party which I represent? Look to the Democratic side of the House; they are here doing their duty and we, as a Republican majority party ought to ge here doing our duty,

On the question,

Will the House agree to refer the resolution to the Committee on Rules?

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, it is not my intention to delay this matter any further. It seems to be the opinion of the House, plainly expressed, to act on this resolution this morning. And it is probable that it is the opinion of the members that referring this resolution to the Committee on Rules would be to kill the resolution and to postpone the fixing of the time indefinitely. That however was not my thought in making the motion, and I do not think it would be the fact if the resolution had been so referred. This being the case however, there certainly can be no objection to fix a definite date to vote on this question, and I therefore make the motion that the further consideration of this resolution be postponed until ten o'clock Monday night.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I move that the motion be laid on the table.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Help us to perpetuate all that is good that has been handed down to us by the past, and grant that we may realize in our own lives those splendid accomplishments that may cause others to be glad that we lived, and be glad for what we have done. BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 186 (House No. 108) entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one article eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, two years ago I opposed the adoption of this resolution with all the force at my command. The resolution nevertheless received a constitutional majority. Later it became a question as to whether or not it should be made a pledge of the party in the Republican Platform of last year. After due deliberation and consideration, the party was committed to the adoption of this resolution, submitting the question of woman's suffrage to a referendum vote of the State. Upon that platform the State candidates were elected and practically all of the legislative candidates. As to what extent the holdover members of the Senate are obligated to support it is a question. To my mind we are at least obligated to the extent of being members and representatives of the party that has given the pledge. As to those who were elected upon this platform there certainly can be no question as to the obligation. Those who support it here are under no obligation to support it at the polls. The question is, shall a party platform pledge, deliberately made, be faithfully kept. Speaking for the Republican State Committee and the Republican State organization, I feel it my duty to say that we feel that there is as much obligation resting upon the party to pass this resolution as to carry any other party platform pledge into legislative effect, and we can only express the wish that the Republican members of the Senate will recognize that obligation by giving the resolution their support.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I do not propose to take up any considerable time of this Senate tonight in expressing my opposition to this resolution, because I feel that the members of this Senate have substantially made up their minds as to how they will cast their votes, but I feel, Mr. President, that I would fail to properly represent the district which I have the honor to represent in this Senate, if I did not express the opposition of the people in my Senatorial district to the passage of this resolution. As has been said by the Senator from Fayette, twenty-three members of this Senate were elected two years ago without any pledge made by them either one way or the other upon this resolution, and every member of the Senate who was elected only last fall had received the support of the members of his senatorial district before the Republican State or the Democratic State platforms were written as the expression of the respective parties. So that there is no one as a member of this Senate who stands bound to his people as a candidate for the Senate by any expression made by him prior to the enactment of the State platforms upon this question. For two years and more I have taken occasion to sound the people of this district which I represent and I find it to be overwhelmingly against this proposition. Only last week three men came into my office from down in the country districts living some two miles apart from each other and when they happened into my office I was opening a letter which dwelt upon the question of suffrage for the women of the Commonwealth. I said, "This is a letter on suffrage," and I said, "By the way, how does your district feel upon it?" and unanimously they said that there would not be a single vote cast in that district in favor of the proposition. I feel, Mr. President, that it is my duty notwithstanding the fact that the platform speaks on this question, to represent the people of this district. We might just as well commit ourselves to the question of initiative and referendum as to submit a question to the people that we know they will oppose. If the members of this Senate would consult their wishes, if they would go into their respective homes and asked their good wives how they felt upon the question of suffrage, I venture the opinion tonight that there would not be ten per cent. of the members of this Senate who would have an affirmative answer upon this proposition. And, Mr. President, it is because of the overwhelming sentiment of the senatorial district comprised of the County of Dauphin that I shall cast my vote against this proposition tonight.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. President, it seems to me that it is not only a party obligation that we are committed to this question, by the pledge on this subject, that has gone before the people, but it is the people's rights. I feel that we have no right to withhold this bill from the people. Let it go to the people and let them decide the question. It is their right to do this and my vote will be "aye."

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, upon the question of an amendment to the Constitution, giving the women of this Commonwealth the privilege of voting, I have examined my conscience, and am convinced that we should not mould our young women in the strife of politics, but rather in the care of the home, with all its beautiful traditions. We do not want those whom we love best, mothers, wives and sisters, involved in politics, even though they are our equals, and, in many respects, our superiors. I therefore will vote nay upon the proposed amendment.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I take great pleasure in seconding the speech of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Crow, in favor of the women; first, there ought to be no question when it does not cost anybody anything, especially to let the people decide, and second, because of the grand and good fight the women have made for this bill. That is why I am going to vote for it.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I do not believe that we should shoulder the responsibility of an amendment of this importance without passing it on for the consideration of the people. Equal suffrage has been an issue in a great many other States besides Pennsylvania, and it is only in the last few months that our National Congress has voted upon this question, and at that time one of the strongest arguments, and possibly the argument that defeated the amendment, was the statement that it was a State issue. Now, we cannot place that argument against the bill for the simple reason that it is a State issue. Two years ago this resolution was passed through the Senate, and a few months afterwards it was considered of so much importance that it was placed in the Washington Party platform, the Democratic Party platform, and the Progressive platform. I believe any constitutional amendment that has been taken up by different parties in this way should not be defeated by any legislative body but passed on for the consideration of the voters. For the past few months we have heard a great deal as to whether the voters of this State, the majority, favor an amendment of this kind. We will never know unless we pass it on for their consideration and for this reason I believe that we ought to pass it on and let the people, at the fall election, the majority of the voters, decide whether they want this amendment or not.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

An Act regulating the sale of chicory mixed with coffee and providing a penalty

Whereas Recent unprejudiced chemical analyses by leading chemists show that from the standpoint of domestic economy chicory is a good and safe addition to coffee and

Whereas In view of the results attained there appears to be no objectionable physiological action when chicory is used

Whereas A small quantity of chicory added to good coffee improves the flavor and reduces the peculiar nervous effects of the coffee and

Whereas The National Dispensary declares that very probably an infusion of chicory taken at meals as a substitute for coffee would be preferable to the latter on the score of health and

Whereas On the continent of Europe the use of chicory as a beverage is fully as well established as the use of tea coffee or cocoa and

Whereas The addition of chicory to coffee would improve the taste of the beverage and greatly lessen its cost therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it is lawful to sell chicory mixed with coffee if it conforms to the following conditions

1 The amount of chicory shall not exceed fifteen per centum of the mixture of coffee and chicory

3 The mixture shall contain no cereal in any form

4 If sold in the form of a beverage in hotels or restaurants there shall be displayed in a prominent place in characters easily legible by the patrons a placard bearing the words "the coffee sold here is mixed with chicory"

Section 2 Any person firm or corporate body who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one hundred ($100) dollars

Section 3 The Dairy and Food Commissioner shall be charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act

Section 4 All fines and penalties imposed and recovered for the violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be paid to the Diary and Food Commissioner or his agent and when so collected and paid shall thereafter be by the Diary and Food Commissioner paid into the State Treasury for the use of the Commonwealth

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, this is the bill known as the "Newspaper Bill." The object of introducing this bill is for the purpose of having the Governor appoint a committee of five newspaper men who are to advise with the Auditor General, the State Treasurer and the Secretary of the Commonwealth for the purpose of adjusting the bills in dispute over the constitutional amendments. As this bill is at the present time it only calls for changing 1912, 1913 and 1914, and yet there has been a cut, since the fiscal year of 1908. I have with me here a report from the Auditor General's Department that shows in the years 1908 and 1909 there was a considerable cut on newspaper bills for constitutional amendments advertising to the amount of $44,291.66; in 1910 and 1911 there was a cut of $23,454.69; in 1912, the last year of Auditor General Sisson's term, there was a cut of $46,910.33; in 1913 there was made a cut of $21,700.03; in 1914, there was a cut of $23,141.29.

Now, Mr. President, if it is right to pass a bill here over the Auditor General's "O K" for 1912, 1913 and 1914, it is nothing but right to pass it for 1909, 1910 and 1911. There were cuts in those years just the same as in the other years. If we pass this bill for 1911, 1912, 1913 and 1914 we have not settled the cut proposition for the other three years. Another thing, this bill only calls for an appropriation of $46,000.00, a little over $46,000.00, and it will take, to carry out this cut, a little over $91,000.00. Now, in this amendment as I have offered it, it calls for an appropriation of $159,000.00, in case it is necessary for that amount. In this committee that the Governor appoints, a committee of five newspaper men, and the Secretary of the Commonwealth, State Treasurer and the Auditor General making a committee of eight, and I think the State will be well taken care of by their decision, and also the newspaper people. I have discovered something to-day, that there are newspapers that the Auditor General has settled with in 1912 and 1913 that under this Act dating back to 1909, 1910 and 1911 that would not get as much as they do at the present time. I discovered one newspaper that the Auditor General has settled for in 1912 got five cents and a half a line, yet by the wording of this bill it states that 1912, 1913 and 1914, is to be the same as 1909, 1910 and 1911. Now, if we pass this act we settle for all time to come what is right by amendment of this kind. If we pass the act without the amendment we have only settled for the last three years and we have not settled for the other three years. It seems to me the Governor would appoint a committee of five newspaper men who would look after this in good shape and that he is to get the advice of the Auditor General, the State Treasurer and the Secretary of the Commonwealth, it seems to me that there would be a committee of eight that would settle this thing in good shape, and that is only proper way to handle this bill, otherwise this bill ought to be defeated, because it means nothing only justice to the people who were not cut in 1909, 1910 and 1911, and the fellows who were cut in those years get no benefit out of the next three years, and will get nothing over what Auditor General Powell has agreed to give.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from McKean, Mr. Hilton.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from McKean, Mr. Hilton, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from McKean whether there is a single newspaper that is making any claim for a bill that was rendered prior to 1912, within his knowledge. It is my desire further to ask him, Mr. President, if this is not an effort to read $100,000.00 into this bill for the purpose of defeating it?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I mean that $46,000.00 will not take care of this bill.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, that is not my question. My interrogation is whether or not there is any newspaper, to his knowledge, within the Commonwealth that is complaining about a bill that was settled prior to 1912.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, there are several papers, we have one in our county.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, will the Senator state what newspaper it is?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, it is the McKean Democrat.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, what is its complaint, if I may ask?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, they got five cents in 1909, 1910 and 1911, and in 1912 they got five and one-half. I do not mean to say that they have any complaint, but I made an investigation and I find that to be true.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator further whether this is not an effort to read into these amendments a complaint upon the part of newspapers which really does not exist; if it is not a fact that all the newspapers who published the amendment in 1912 have settled in full with the State.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President. No sir.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, can the Senator from McKean mention any place where there is a newspaper, even the McKean County Democrat, which is endeavoring to open the payments which were made by the Auditor General prior to 1912.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, it does not make any difference to the taxpayers of this State, who is complaining or who is not complaining, the question is, what is right and what is wrong. If it is right to pass this law and give the newspapers in 1912, 1913, and 1914, an extra amount, it is right for 1909, 1910 and 1911, and when you offer to make an amendment whereby a committee is appointed for the purpose of adjusting differences, what is fairer than that? We all have confidence that our Governor will appoint a right committee of five and he advises with those three officials, whom we have confidence in and that makes a committee of eight, and I think we will be well taken care of as far as the State is concerned, and the newspapers will not complain with the decision that committee of eight will give.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to say for the information of the Senate that this bill was threshed out in the House covering a few days. The entire subject matter was gone over and I am advised that for the bills that are now before the Auditor General, the bill in its present state carries enough money to settle in full the claims of the several newspapers whose bill remain unpaid.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, the Auditor General tells me that is not true. He claims that to carry out this act as it stands to-day without an amendment, it will take ninety-one thousand dollars, that forty-six thousand dollars will not take care of it. I wish also to say that the Auditor General is perfectly satisfied with this amendment. He thinks that it is the fair way to have this settled.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, will the Senator from McKean permit himself to be further interrogated.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from McKean permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I will ask the Senator from McKean if it is not a fact that the Auditor General himself submitted a statement to the chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the House showing that the amount that is carried by this bill in its present state would settle the bills in dispute.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I know nothing about that. I know the Auditor General has told me within the last three days that he has gone over it carefully and he discovered that forty-six thousand dollars will not take care of this act but it will take ninety-one thousand and some odd dollars to take care of the act as it is without the amendment. That was his report after going over it carefully.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from McKean.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from McKean, Mr. Hilton, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, if it is true that the Auditor General did make such a report to the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations of the House, that the amount carried in this bill is sufficient, would not that satisfy you that this is a proper bill to pass?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, no, sir, it would not. When he gives me the statement that I have in my hands in his own dictation saying that it will take ninety-one thousand dollars.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, then he has reversed his former statement.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I do not know anything about his former statement. This is from the Auditor General. "After a careful examination of the records and accounts of the Auditor General's office, it is found that in the year 1912, the last year of General Sisson's term, 354 received the constitutional amendment; two hundred and fourteen papers had their bills scaled in the total sum of $46,910.33. In 1913, 236 had constitutional amendments; 109 papers had their bills scaled in the total sum of $21,700.03. In 1914, 275 papers had constitutional amendments; 119 papers had their bill scaled in the total sum of $23,141.29. The total amount of the cuts in all three years was therefore equal to $91,760.65, which is the amount necessary to insert in the bill known as the "Habgood Bill" and introduced by Mr. McCaig. For your information, permit me to state that in 1912 140 papers which had the amendments were paid in full; in the year 1913, 127 papers were paid in full; in the year 1914, 156 papers were paid in full. In all of the three years mentioned the papers named in the attached list had the advertising and rendered bills which were in every way considered fair and reasonable and were paid in full. In addition, permit me to say that in the years 1908 and 1909 a total cut of $44,291.66 was made from the bills, and in 1910 and 1911 a total cut of $23,454.69 was made. If this payment is to be made in full, the bill ought to carry an appropriation for these sums in addition to the total sum heretofore given, or a grand total of $159.507.00."

Now, I have in addition to this from the Auditor General also,—that is his own report that I have just read,—I have in addition to that papers paid in full for publishing constitutional amendments for the years 1912, 1913 and 1914, sixty-two that were all paid in full. I have also the papers paid in full for publishing the constitutional amendments for one year or more, eighty-two. I will ask that these be inserted in the Legislative Journal, as follows:

Greensburg Morning Review

That is the Auditor-General's own statement, saying that it will take $91,000.00 to carry out this act. I believe that is the question you asked.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, $91,000.00?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, instead of $46,000.00.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, would that carry out the provisions of this amendment?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, providing the committee would allow all the bills. If I understand the question Senator McNichol has asked me it is how much money would it take to carry out this act in case all bills rendered were allowed.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, no, that is not the question. How much will it take to carry out the provisions of this bill as per the amendment introduced by you tonight?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, that would be according to what the committee would decide upon paying, but the maximum amount would be $159,000.00 in case they would pay the amounts in the bills rendered; but of course they would not pay that amount, so it would not take possibly that amount, but that would be the maximum.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, or $61,000.00 more than the present bill that we are about to pass?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, if this bill as it stands at the present time without the amendment goes through it will take $91,000.00 instead of $46,000.00, if this committee would allow all bills according to the bills rendered from the fiscal year of 1908 up to the present time, it would take $159,000.00; but, Mr. President, I think we will all agree that anything like that will not happen. Instead of its being $91,000.00, which this original bill calls for, it will be much less.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Philadelphia desire to further interrogate the Senator from McKean?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I do not. I cannot see how we can be asked to vote against this bill as it is on the Calendar tonight, or how we can be asked to support the amendment offered by the Senator from McKean; because, as the Senator from Dauphin has said, the matter has been threshed out in the House pro and con for the past month. Three hundred and eighty-five newspapers, representing practically ninety per cent. of the newspapers in the State of Pennsylvania, have been since 1912, 1913, 1914 and part of 1915, clamoring for and seeking compensation for work done upon orders upon proper legal authority of the State of Pennsylvania, and after this matter has been thoroughly threshed out to say that we, for the purpose of further delay upon this bill, shall vote for the amendment adding an additional sixty or seventy thousand dollars to take in the years 1908, 1909, 1910 and 1911, when there is no request from the owners of these papers, is to my mind ridiculous and absolutely preposterous. I therefore trust that this Senate will refuse to amend this bill in the form submitted by the Senator from McKean and the bill be allowed to pass second reading and to pass the Senate.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I will, with pleasure.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, since the fiscal year of 1908, there has been a cut by the Auditor-General for those constitutional amendments every year. Now this bill only covers a remedy for 1912, 1913 and 1914, which I would judge from the Senator's remarks he approves. Now if it is right to correct that in 1912, 1913 and 1914, and it is wrong in 1909, 1910 and 1911, and we have no record to show that it is right or wrong any more than we have in 1913 or 1914, do you believe that we should take care of 1912, 1913 and 1914 and not 1910 and 1911?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I believe that the newspapers of the State of Pennsylvania received a judicial, fair and financial settlement of their bills in 1908, 1909, 1910 and 1911 and the result of this bill is the absolute impossibility of receiving a fair and judicial interpretation of their claims under the present Auditor-General.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I would like to have the Senator from Philadelphia answer my question. I asked him if he considered it was fair to correct those bills in 1912 and 1913 and they were cut in 1909, 1910 and 1911? If it would not be equally fair to cut them also in those other years.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, in the absence of a requisition upon the part of people whom they cut. If there had been a request for an adjustment in 1908, 1909, 1910 and 1911, yes, but who is making that request?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, there are many people in this State who are dissatisfied with the cuts in 1909, 1910 and 1911, as much as in 1912, 1913 and 1914, and I wish to further state that Auditor-General Powell has settled with people in 1912 at rates which were higher than the rates in 1909, 1910 and 1911, and, if this McCaig bill goes through without an amendment, he will have to send back some of the money that the Auditor-General sent to them, because he sent them more than this bill will allow. Take for instance, what the newspapers were allowed in 1909, 1910 and 1911, five cents a line. Now where a bill gives them in 1912 five cents a line and where this act calls for 1912, 1913 and 1914 the same as in the other three years, they will have to get five cents a line.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, will that not be good for the State? I want to read for the information of the Senate over the signature of A. W. Powell, Auditor-General, and C. E. Willock, Deputy, statements that one hundred and forty-six thousand and forty dollars and eighty cents, of which there is one hundred thousand dollars in a fund, which is a sufficient amount of money to adjust and settle all claims for the years 1912, 1913 and 1914. This is the document and the Senator from McKean is privileged to inspect it if he desires to do so.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, or any gentleman of this Senate, if he does not know it to be a fact that a great many of our newspapers with a circulation of between five and ten thousand, that there is a variation of between two and three hundred per cent. in the charges that they made in the bills rendered. I understand there are a couple gentlemen in this Senate, one associated with the Chester Times and the other with the Uniontown Herald which only charged three hundred and seventy-one dollars and that the circulation of their papers is from eight to ten thousand and yet we have other papers with a circulation of a little over five thousand and that they charged seventeen cents and a half a line and according to this will get it, or over eleven hundred dollars. On the face of it it shows it is wrong. When a paper with the largest circulation only charges three hundred and seventy-one dollars and another one with half the circulation charges eleven hundred dollars there is something wrong. According to this law, and without this amendment, it will go through in that way.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HILTON and Mr. HINDMAN, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—7.

Hilton,	Moore,	Snyder, P. W.,	Warner,
Hindman,	Smith, R. E.,	Stewart,

NAYS—23.

Burke,	Endsley,	McConnell,	Semmens,
Catlin,	Farley,	McKee, W. S.,	Smith, W. W.,

Crow,	Homsher,	Patton,	Sproul,
Daix,	Jenkins,	Salus,	Tompkins,
DeWitt,	Kurtz,	Schantz,

So the question was determined in the negative.

The title of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 293, entitled:

An Act to amend section four of an act entitled "An Act to regulate the doing of business in this Commonwealth by foreign corporations the registration thereof and service of process thereon and providing punishment and penalties for the violation of its provisions and repealing previous legislation on the subject" approved the eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the fourth section of an act approved the eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to regulate the doing of business in this Commonwealth by foreign corporations the registration thereof and service of process thereon and providing punishment and penalties for the violation of its provisions and repealing previous legislation on the subject" which reads as follows

"Section 4 Any person or persons agent officer or employe of any such foreign corporation who shall transact any business within this Commonwealth for any such foreign corporation without the provisions of this act being complied with shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment not exceeding thirty days and by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or either at the discretion of the court trying the same Provided That the failure of any such corporation to file the power of attorney and statement aforesaid with the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall not impair or affect the validity of any contract with such corporation and actions or proceedings at law or in equity may be instituted and maintained on any such contract but no such action shall be instituted or recovery had by any such corporation on any such contract either expressed or implied in any of the courts of this Commonwealth or before any justice of the peace or magistrate thereof until such corporation complies with the provisions of this act And provided further Before any such corporation can institute any action in any of the courts of this Commonwealth or before any justice of the peace or magistrate thereof on any cause of action arising prior to the filing of the power of attorney and statement provided for in section two of this act it shall pay to the Secretary of the Commonwealth for the use of the Commonwealth a license fee or fine of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00) Provided further however that this act shall not extend or be construed to give validity to any contracts other than contracts between depositors and persons or corporations engaged in the business of receiving deposits of money subject to check entered into by corporations prior to the passage of this act nor to give to foreign corporations any right to enforce such contracts other than contracts between depositors and persons or corporations engaged in the business of receiving deposits of money subject to check if such right did not exist at the time such contracts were entered into but actions or proceedings at law or in equity may be instituted and maintained and recovery may be had in any pending action on contracts between depositors and persons or corporations engaged in the business of receiving deposits of money subject to check although said contracts may have been entered into prior to the passage of this act" be amended to read as follows

"Section 4 Any person or persons agent officer or employe of any such foreign corporation who shall transact any business within this Commonwealth for any such foreign corporation, without the provisions of this act being complied with shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment not exceeding thirty days and by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or either at the discretion of the court trying the same Provided That the failure of any such corporation to file the power of attorney and statement aforesaid with the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall not impair or affect the validity of any contract with such corporation and actions or proceedings at law or in equity may be instituted and maintained on any such contract but no such action shall be instituted or recovery had by any such corporation on any contract either expressed or implied in any of the courts of this Commonwealth or before any justice of the peace or magistrate thereof until such corporation complies with the provisions of this act and provided further Before any such corporation can institute any action in any of the courts of this Commonwealth or before any justice of the peace or magistrate thereof on any cause of action arising prior to the filing of the power of attorney and statement provided for in section two of this act it shall pay to the Secretary of the Commonwealth for the use of the Commonwealth a license fee or fine of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00) Provided further however that this act shall not extend or to be construed to give validity to any contracts entered into by corporations prior to the passage of this act nor to give to foreign corporations any right to enforce such contracts if such right did not exist at the time such contracts were entered into"

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. F. W. Staley, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee that we have before our vision a magnificent painting, portraying groups of men whose lives are full of inspiration. The churchmen who have made it possible for us to live in an age of religious organization with myriads of churches and vast congregations; philanthropists who gave us charitable institutions to administer to the needy and to the helpless and the homeless; statesmen who did their work nobly and well and who have made Pennsylvania the Keystone State in the sisterhood of states to become the mighty forces in this great Republic; soldiers who died upon the field of battle in defense of their State and who helped to make Gettysburg one of the famous battlefields of the world. These illustrious men have placed in our hands this State with its solemn responsibilities. O God, give us strength to bear it up; to make it more noble, more philanthropic, more patriotic and more religious. We ask it for Christ's sake. Amen.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. HABGOOD called up House Bill No. 317 on page 8 of tonight's Calendar, Bills on Third Reading Postponed.

Agreeably to order.

The House resumed the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 317, entitled:

An Act to repeal an act approved the twenty-sixth day of April one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three entitled "An Act relative to the eligibility of candidates for the office of district attorney"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Forster, desires to interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Habgood. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire the gentleman from McKean to explain what the purpose of this bill is and what does it bring about?

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr. Speaker, I will, in answer to that question, read the bill which it repeals. It consists only of about seven lines. The bill was passed in 1883 which provided as follows: "That no person shall be eligible to the office of District Attorney of any county within this Commonwealth unless he shall be admitted to practice for two years preceding his election. It simply provides that any attorney who has been admitted to the bar and who has practiced law for a period of two years is eligible. It applies to the smaller counties.

They must be learned in the law, and of course that is up to the people. They have to elect their district attorneys.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Habgood.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Habgood, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HABGOOD. Certainly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, will not this bill if passed render any person eligible to the office of District Attorney whether he is a member of the bar or not?

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr. Speaker, I would absolutely and positively say not. He must be admitted to practice in the courts of the counties of this state, but it does say he must have been admitted for so many years.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Habgood.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Habgood, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. HABGOOD. Certainly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, under the law as it stands, or after this act passes, under what act of assembly would it be that a person would be a candidate for district attorney?

Mr. HABGOOD. In the absence of any act, a person simply would be in a absurd position to be a candidate for district attorney unless he were an attorney practicing in the courts of the various counties. If any undertaker or hardware dealer or grocer ran for district attorney he would not be elected by the people and before he could be a candidate for the office without any law at all he would have to be a practicing attorney or else the people would not elect him.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from McKean, further.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Habgood, permit himself to be further interrogated.

Mr. HABGOOD. Certainly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, then except for the ridiculousness of the proposition, there would be nothing in the law of Pennsylvania to prevent any undertaker or butcher or baker from being elected to the office of district attorney. Is that correct?

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr. Speaker, the people would prevent their being elected to the office of district attorney. Of course they would. He would have to be admitted to the bar as before, before he could be a candidate, and the people are just as much to be trusted as this House, because they elected this House.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I heartily agree with the sponsor of the bill that so far as the repealing of the restriction of two years' practice before being eligible for this office of district attorney is concerned, is probably a very good thing, yet I do feel that there should be some restrictions in the law which would limit the office of district attorney to men learned in the law. Now, in the absence of any such provision, while I have the utmost faith in the common sense of the electorate of any district, I do feel that we should be very careful to put some restriction in which would guard against the possibility of anything of the sort which I have mentioned from happening. As the bill now stands I do not believe that there is any restriction whatever on the eligibility of a candidate for district attorney. I do not feel that I would want to pass this bill unless it is amended in some way to provide for this, and as it stands now I do not think that this bill should be passed.

Mr. GOODWIN. Mr. Speaker, it appears to me as though this is an ill-advised piece of legislation. It proposes to repeal the Act of 1883 which requires that a candidate for district attorney shall have been admitted to the bar for at least two years. It simply proposes to repeal that act without providing any qualifications as to being admitted to the bar, or any experience by him whatever. Before the act of 1850 and since that time he has performed the duties of deputy attorney general. In 1852 that qualification was reduced to one year before being admitted to the bar. In the County of Dauphin, it was repealed in 1853 but after a few years by the act of 1883 the two years' qualification at the bar was required and it has been in that condition ever since. Now this bill repeals the act of 1883 without requiring any experience whatever at the bar. It is in line with the bill which proposed to allow high schools to confer academic degrees without large qualifications. It is not in harmony with the progressive spirit of the times. Our schools are extending their courses; our medical colleges, our law colleges—and this bill proposes to let down the bars and allow a man as soon as he is admitted to the bar with no qualifications whatever to be an eligible candidate for district attorney. This should not be. The office of district attorney is an important one; he represents the Commonwealth in all criminal prosecutions; he is the legal advised of the Grand Jury and signs all bills of indictment, and should be a man of some experience. I think this House should not repeal the act of 1883 and let down the bars and let any boy when he was simply admitted to the bar without any experience whatever be eligible to the office of district attorney.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, it must appear to the members of the House that this qualification to the office in the act which this seeks to repeal is a very trivial one,—the fact that an attorney must practice in the courts two years before he can be elected to the office of district attorney. No one believes for a minute that the people are not competent to pass on who their district attorney should be without this petty qualification of two years practice in the courts. I say this act is trivial and should not have been written into our statutes. The fact is that in very many of the smaller counties of the state we find trouble in getting candidates for this office—an office tnat pays four to six hundred dollars a year—and as a rule it is given to some young lawyer just out of school, and we are glad to find such men to take the place. This act very often stands in the way to find a candidate who will accept the office, and that is why we ask for the repeal of this act. It is a trivial qualification. No one assumes that in the larger counties, such as the County of Philadelphia, represented by the gentleman who first raised the question will elect a district attorney who is not qualified by practice in the courts to hold the office, and I do not believe that the County of Venango, notwithstanding the great alarm of the member from there will elect a district attorney to serve in that position who is not competent. Why not pass this repealer, and leave the matter in the hands of the people. It is only in the smaller counties of the State, as I said, where they have trouble in finding candidates for this office.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 3 The money so appropriated shall be expended according to rules and regulations approved by the board of county commissioners

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I think it would be a mistake to pass this amendment to our present law. The law at present provides that counties may make contributions to the farm bureau for agricultural extension work, and I think it may be safely left with the county commissioners to respond to a well founded demand for such work in the county. I think that the law goes far enough when it gives the privilege to make contributions without making it compulsory. I shall vote against the bill.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, I am sorry and regret to get into a controversy upon this bill. I have introduced this bill in good faith. I believe it to be a good bill. It transfers the agricultural work to our homes and the doorstep of every farmer in this Commonwealth. It is in operation in one of the counties of my district. It is a success and I think that there is nothing wrong in our county commissioners appropriating a portion of our own money to establish a farm bureau in connection with State College, because we want to meet the appropriation made by the national government and this is the only way in which we can meet it. I have provided that where counties are small two may be joined together by each appropriating their proportion of money necessary to carry on this farm bureau. I cannot see why this bill is not as fundamental as the School Law itself. We have our expert chosen through State College; we have a bureau composed of our farmers and other business men in our county seats and this expert is subject to the request of any farmer to be consulted on his own farm on agricultural matter and it certainly is bringing this agricultural work down to where it properly belongs, to the people. I hope that my fellow Senators will pass this bill.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. F. W. Staley, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee that it is impossible for us to separate ourselves from Thy presence, from Thy power and wisdom, and from the providential care that is over us. We thank Thee that we are ever dependent upon Thee for the sunlight we enjoy, for the food that we eat, for the air that we breathe, and for the rich provisions which Thou hast made in the gospel for our redemption.

And we pray Thee, O God, that Thy providence would be over the Governor of the State and his guests, be over the Speaker of the House and the Committees of the Senate and House who have gone to attend the launching of a great ship; and may that great dreadnaught become one of the forces for peace, not only for this nation, but shall become a great defense for the nation; and may those who have gone away have a safe return.

Remember the absent ones who are sick and may they speedily be restored to health.

Remember us to-day in all our deliberations; we ask for Christ's sake, Amen.

RESOLUTION FAVORING PENSIONS TO EMERGENCY MEN.

Mr. BARNETT offered the following resolution, which was read and laid over for printing.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

In the House of Representatives, March 15, 1915.

Whereas, During the Civil War this Commonwealth was twice threatened by an invasion of the Confederate forces under General Lee, namely at Antietam in 1862 and at Gettysburg in 1863, and

Whereas, At the urgent appeal of President Lincoln, the Governor of Pennsylvania, Andrew G. Curtin, in both of said years, called upon citizens of Pennsylvania to enlist in the defense of the State, and

Whereas, It is generally admitted that the Emergency Men of Pennsylvania answering the call of Governor Curtin were potential factors in this terrible crisis, and

Whereas, Neither the State nor the Nation has shown to these brave defenders of Pennsylvania the proper appreciation of their services when at the call of the Governor during the days of 1862 and 1863 they left their homes and firesides and hastened to the defense of their State, and

Whereas, In many of the encounters that ensued after the enlistment of these Emergency Men these men bore themselves bravely and fully answered every demand made upon them in the line of patriotic duty, and

Whereas, Said Emergency Men were commanded by United States officers and marched under orders of the United States Government, and under such commanders performed duties beyond the boundaries of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, Now in their old age many of these men who at that time were willing to lay down their lives as a sacrifice for the good of their country, are now facing the sunset of life in straightened circumstances and in many cases in need of that care and attention which the Government and the Commonwealth should provide; and

Whereas, The National Government heretofore in its acknowledgment of the debt we owe to the soldiers of the Civil War has cared for many men whose services rendered were not greater than those rendered by the Emergency Men of Pennsylvania; therefore

Be it resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania urgently bring it to the attention of the Congress of the United States that adequate provision has not been made for the Emergency Men who enlisted during the Civil War, particularly the Emergency Men of Pennsylvania, and that through pension or otherwise they should be taken care of in their declining days, that they cannot say that their Country is unmindful of their services and ungrateful for what they did.

RESOLUTION NO. 8.

Mr. BRUMBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up House Resolution No. 8, File Folio No. 2101.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the resolution.

The Clerk then read the resolution as follows:

Whereas It has been reported to this House by Mr. Garner of Schuylkill that a representative of the corporate interests had presented him with a mileage book which Mr. Garner termed the first fruits of the "Full Crew" therefore

Be it resolved that this House authorize the Speaker to appoint a committee of three to investigate and report to this House the facts in this case which are reflective upon this House and ought to be beneath its dignity

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this resolution be referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. GARNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 517, File Folio No. 1955, entitled:

An Act prohibiting any city county or municipality from imposing or collecting any license fee or tax upon insurance companies or their agents or insurance brokers licensed to transact business by the Insurance Commissioner be laid over and not acted upon until Monday evening.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I think this bill should be either placed on the postponed calendar for the present, or else recommitted to the committee from which it came, because as I read the bill, and I took it up with the sponsor of the bill, the gentleman from Delaware, the verbiage in the bill is rather of a doubtful meaning, and where it prevented the county or municipality from levying and collecting any license fee or tax, I was just a bit fearful that perhaps there might be very considerably litigation concerning that, on the theory that perhaps it exempted from local taxation insurance companies. Now, I am perfectly agreed that the bill should prevent the municipalities from collecting the brokerage license tax from corporations and insurance companies that pay the State tax, but herein the language should be very plain. We would not want it to be at all construed hereafter that any one is exempted from the payment of brokerage license tax, but perhaps there is an exemption from any local tax; therefore I think that the sponsor of the bill, with whom I have already talked about this should best decide whether the bill should be postponed generally for the present, or recommitted to the committee from which it came. Either will serve the purpose of my objection at this time, which is that the House may go over the bill more carefully.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to know if the motion made by the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Garner, has been seconded?

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, to save any discussion on the bill, when it finally comes before the House, I might explain to the House the purpose of the bill. The purpose of the bill is to prevent municipalities, namely, a city, or a borough or a township, from placing an additional tax upon an insurance agent or broker. Insurance agents and brokers have been one of the sources of revenue to the State. The tax on an insurance agent is two dollars for each company that he represents. Nearly all insurance agents that do any business scarcely at all are necessarily also brokers. Under the law a fire insurance agent, or any other person who may desire to place insurance through an agent, becomes a broker.

In the practice of fire insurance there are many agents—in fact, nearly all agents occasionally have a risk that is so large that their companies are not able to cover it in their own office, consequently they go over to another insurance agent and say "Here, I am able to take care of one hundred thousand dollars of insurance on this property, but as the insurer desires two hundred thousand dollars insurance and I have a hundred thousand surplus that I cannot take care of I will give that to you." There is always an understanding in the fire insurance business, between agents, that if I as an agent give you a hundred thousand insurance, or any other amount, you give me a portion of the commisson, and vice versa. If I take care of a surplus in this way I get a division of the commission. Thus nearly all fire insurance agents become brokers so that nearly all fire insurance agents have, generally, in their office anywheres from (I am speaking of the fire insurance business now, and those who do any business at all) three to ten companies that he represents. If I represent five companies, I pay two dollars into the State for each company; I pay ten dollars into the State for my license to represent each company and I pay, in addition to that, ten dollars for the right to be a broker. I pay a State tax of twenty dollars. If I represent twenty companies I pay forty dollars in addition to the general tax to be a broker, which would be fifty dollars. Now, the general feeling of a great many people is that they have been selected by the State as one of the sources of revenue for the State and that it is hardly fair to place a double taxation on that particular class of activity. But it does appear that some boroughs and some cities feel that they ought to collect a local tax in addition to the State tax. If this bill were to pass it would mean that hereafter the only tax that a fire insurance agent or broker would have to pay would be a State tax. I might say if it is the opinion of the House that this business does not pay as large a tax as it ought to that it should not be subjected to a double taxation, but if it does not pay a sufficient tax to the State that tax ought to be increased. My personal experience leads me to believe that this tax is a heavier tax on the fire insurance agents and representatives than the present Mercantile tax is on the merchant, so that it is a tax similar to that. Now, gentlemen, I had intended to have this bill postponed for the present, because in this morning's work I have not been able to draw up the amendments on which I agree with my friend and colleague from Philadelphia, who has just spoken (Mr. Roney)—that the language is a little indefinite. However, he is fearful that it might exempt insurance companies from taxes; what we might call municipal taxes. Personally, I don't think that is in the bill or to be feared, because a careful reading of the bill will show you that it refers only to that business as contained in the Act of 1911 and that Act dealt with nothing else except the license question. It is true this Act, as drawn, does have the word "tax" in it, but I don't think there is any use of postponing this bill until Monday evening, myself. I am willing to have it postponed for the present because we will be busy with other matters today and in the meantime I would prepare amendments, in confirmation with my friend from Philadelphia. It is immaterial to me, however.

Mr. GARNER. Mr. Speaker, the reason I ask that the bill be laid over until Monday evening is so that I may examine into the law upon this subject. I see an entirely different construction of this bill. As the law stands now the fire houses of Ashland where I live receive from this State tax a few hundred dollars every year for disabled firemen. As I read the bill without examining the law I see where they are going to take that away. I would, therefore, like to have a few days to examine the law before they destroy the Volunteer Fire Pension of our State.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to inform the House and my friend from Schuylkill that this does not do any such thing; it is not possible to get out of it even a suggestion that it changes the distribution of the pension fund to firemen. The truth of the matter is, it only deals with the question of local taxation. There is no place in the bill, all through it, that anybody can find a suggestion to repeal the law that places this tax upon the fire insurance agents; such language cannot be found in it. Why, my friend from Schuylkill can have any idea of that I really cannot conceive. It don't deal with that in any way or sense. The Act of 1911 has nothing whatever to do with the pension law; that is a law that provides in each community that there shall be a certain division of the money collected by the State out of the fire insurance tax that shall be redistributed among and for the benefit of the firemen's association. This bill does not approach that in any way, shape or form. If that is what the gentleman has in mind in his objections to the bill I can say, positively, to the House that there is nothing in it and the language is very simple and I don't see how or where such a conception can be formed.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Baldwin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the gentleman from Philadelphia in what he has just said in regard to this bill, is that the agent who is engaged in the insurance business as an agent pays two dollars tax to the State for each company that he represents. Now, I would like to ask the gentleman from Delaware if it is not true that the insurance companies pay that tax?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer that question, because there are about fifteen thousand agents in the State of Pennsylvania. I don't suppose that the gentleman would expect me to know what all the agents do.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr Speaker, the gentleman from Delaware does not understand my question or else he is evading answering it. It is this: Is it not true that the insurance companies pay this tax of two dollars to the State for their agents?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I think I answered that question plainly. The gentleman has asked me a question that relates to about fifteen thousand agents in the State of Pennsylvania. If I were to make an answer it would be only an impression and I would not want to make a mistake in giving you what would just be my impression. I don't know that I have ever asked an agent in the State of Pennsylvania whether his tax was paid for him or not. I am surely not trying to evade the question of the gentleman. He is endeavoring to ask me a question that no living man can answer. A company may say that we pay the tax for our agents but there are from three to four hundred companies doing business in Pennsylvania, and the gentleman certainly does not wish me to tell the House what my opinion is.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, No.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I think the House appreciates how difficult it would be for me or any other member of this House to answer that question. I presume my friend has an impression himself that the companies pay that tax for the agents. I am not responsible for his impressions; he might be right, but if you would like me to give you my impression, if you want me to do that I will do it, but I want it understood that it is only an impression. I don't know, I cannot know. I think I have made the question clear, gentlemen. Have I not?

Mr. GARNER. Mr. Speaker, no, sir; you have not. I want to ask you a question.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I am answering one interrogation and all that I have said should be clear and I think everybody will agree with me as to that; nobody can do business until he pays into the State Treasury two dollars for one company, four dollars for two companies, and if he is in twenty companies or represents twenty companies he pays forty dollars, and in addition to that if he is a broker he pays ten dollars annually. If that tax is not heavy enough it may be increased, but it does not effect the pension fund in any way at all. There is no attempt in this bill to reduce the agent's tax of the State; it does not effect the State revenues at all, but simply says that if this class of business is to be taxed by the State it is not fair to tax it again by the local government; that is all it means.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, the reason why I asked this question is this: Because I have been told, personally, by an insurance man that the insurance company did pay this tax. I don't know how it is though as they might have paid the tax for this one man only. I do know this: If the insurance company pays this tax for all their agents then it seems to me that it is not a burden upon the insurance agents or brokers to pay this brokerage tax. I am just asking for information. I want to know about this matter because I am not in a position to know without this information and, therefore, I want to know what I am voting on.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. GARNER. Mr. Speaker, there is a motion before the House.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the gentleman from Delaware is really only intended to apply such insurance agents that might come under the head of brokers; because of doing particular things. If I am wrong in that, I can be corrected by the gentleman from Delaware, but if that is the case: That it be recommitted or postponed and the following amendment placed in the bill would bring about very nearly what the gentleman from Delaware has led me to understand: By striking out in lines six and seven, the words "or tax upon insurance companies or other agents or insurance representatives" and inserting after the word "fee" "other insurance companies". Then it will read properly. If I am wrong, the gentleman from Delaware has not made it clear to me.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I have already stated that the present law provides that any person who desires to represent an insurance company, it is necessary for them to pay to the State Treasury a tax of two dollars; if he represents two companies four dollars and for each additional company two dollars on each one. In addition to that he pays a fee of ten dollars. The nature of the business is one by which nearly always an agent is also a broker and he pays an annual brokerage fee of ten dollars. If an agent chooses to be a broker or to do any business as a broker that is what he pays. Therefore, this bill does not effect any one from a State standpoint at all but there is one thing I should like to explain to the House which is this: There are agencies in this State that are incorporated. It is that class of corporations I am talking about. They are not insurance companies who are insurers but representatives of insurance companies who place insurance for insurance companies and it will cover them as well as the individuals. There are several incorporated insurance companies in the State who do nothing but place insurance, that is the reason why the words "insurance companies" occur in the act.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Baldwin.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will kindly remember that the bill itself is not before the House.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, does not a bill in its entirety come under consideration when a motion is made to postpone it for any particular time? Is not the whole bill under consideration? That would be my impression. Because how could the House understand whether they ought to postpone or not to postpone it unless the whole situation is explained which involves the bill.

The SPEAKER. If the postponement is for a special order of business, it is debatable, but not if it is postponed to some indefinite time.

Mr. BALDWIN. It is not postponed to some indefinite time, it is a time set.

The SPEAKER. This motion is made for a time set, but not a special order of business.

Mr. GARNER. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my second to the motion.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted back to the Committe on Insurance for the purpose of proper amendment.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is the gentleman is out of order. It cannot be recommitted until he reconsiders——

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's motion is not in order at this time.

The SPEAKER. The Chair withdraws its request to consider bills on second reading.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 517, entitled:

An Act prohibiting any city county or municipality from imposing or collecting any license fee or tax upon insurance companies or their agents or insurance brokers licensed to transact business by the Insurance Commissioner

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Insurance.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I hope the House will not do that. The committee has already considered this bill from every phase. It was thoroughly discussed; all this bill wants is a postponement for the present, and there is no doubt that the amendments that will be made to it will make it as good as the sponsor will agree to make it, and then if the House does not want the bill it can vote it down. But is undoubtedly good legislation. Now if you will just postpone the bill for the present, by tomorrow I will have the amendments prepared. I have discussed this bill with the Insurance Commissioner, but I did not have time to prepare the amendments. If you will postpone the bill until the amendments are prepared, then if there is any member in the House who would like to know exactly what the law on the question is, and would like to confer with his friends at home, I will agree to have it postponed but I would like to have it keep its place on the calendar and move along.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, under that statement of facts, I withdraw my motion to recommit it to the Committee on Insurance and after that we can have it postponed for the present if it is agreed to.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my second to the gentleman's motion.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate which were laid upon the table.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 544, as follows:

An Act authorizing the adoption of an amortized basis for valuing the bond investments of life insurance companies or fraternal beneficiary societies

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That all bonds or other evidences of debt held by any life insurance company or fraternal beneficiary societies authorized to do business in this Commonwealth may if amply secured and if not in default as to principal or interest be valued as follows If purchased at par at the par value if purchased above or below par on the basis of the purchase price adjusted so as to bring the value to par at maturity and so as to yield meantime the effective rate of interest at which the purchase was made Provided that the purchase price shall in no case be taken at a higher figure than the actual market value at the time of purchase and provided further that the Insurance Commissioner shall have full discretion in determining the method of calculating values according to the foregoing rule and the values found by him in accordance with such method shall be final and binding Provided also that any such corporation may return such bonds or other evidences of debt at their market value or their book value but in no case at an aggregate value exceeding the aggregate of the values calculated according to the foregoing rule

Section 2 This act shall not be construed to require any life insurance company or fraternal beneficiary societies authorized to do business in this Commonwealth which shall not elect to value its bonds and other evidences of debt by amortization as herein provided to do so but any company electing to adopt the amortized basis shall continue to have its bonds valued upon that basis

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, there are several members of the House who have asked me to explain this bill. I think I can do it in a very few words, and you will appreciate just what it means. This is a bill that comes from the Insurance Department. You realize that all life insurance companies carry reserves. Those reserves are almost always represented entirely by securities held—bonds and mortgages of various kinds. We all realize that bonds fluctuate on the market. Sometimes under depressed conditions bonds take quite a tumble. The par value being one hundred, under depressed conditions it may have a market value of only ninety. That value may go as low as sixty. When the conditions are prosperous bonds go above par, and while the par is one hundred the market value of the bonds may be one hundred and ten, one hundred and twenty or one hundred and five. "Amortized" means that the Insurance Commissioner, so as to fix the value upon which the State collects its tax, shall have the power to fix the value of these bonds or securities held as reserves, that is the entire effect. If the company itself is allowed to fix the value of its securities for the purpose of boosting its reserve when it is in a dangerous condition, it may fix the value of its securities above what a reasonable man would believe was fair, and if it was fixed at its par value the result would be to impair the reserve. The law of the State and of every State of the Union is that when the reserve of the company is impaired why the company must either make the impairment good or it must cease to do business. Now this bill simply gives to the Insurance Commissioners the right to amortize the securities. At the present time there is no such power.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I just wish to state at this time that the origin of this bill comes from two different sources. In the first place the bill was originated by the County Commissioners' Organization, which composes the State of Pennsylvania, and met at Erie. The object of the bill is to take the paying of bounties out of the hands of the County Commissioners and put it in the hands of the State Game Department where it properly belongs. There has been a great deal of difficulty in paying these bounties and a number of counties had to borrow money in order to meet this demand. This bill provides that any one killing any of these obnoxious animals shall take the pelt to a justice of the peace or a representative of the Game Department and it is then to be sent to the Game Department and the bounty paid direct to the man who killed the animal. Before this they went to the County Commissioners and they paid the money out and had to lay out of the money. I have before me, and I presume other members have also, letters from County Commissioners who have paid out a great deal of money and have not yet been repaid for the bounties paid out the last two years. This bill is also recommended by the sportsmen of Pennsylvania. The money is paid in, as you know, for hunters licenses and they would also like to have the paying of these bounties come direct from the Department, and I therefore ask you to support this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 196, entitled:

An Act providing for the appointment and expenses of a commission of three persons learned in the law to codify and revise the law of decendents' estates and making an appropriation

The said bill having been read the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McKAY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Berntheizel, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERNTHEIZEL. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. McKAY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask if there is any reason why the Legislative Reference Bureau cannot do this work, thus saving the State ten thousand dollars?

Mr. BERNTHEIZEL. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides not for a codification, but for a revision of the law of decedents' estates. This bill was given to me by the late W. U. Hensel, chairman of the Committee of Law Reform, by direction of the State Bar Association. It has the endorsement of the Philadelphia Bar Association, and through the State Bar Association, I take it, of every bar of the State. It is needless for me to enter into a discussion as to the need of the revision of the law of decedents' estates of Pennsylvania. Any person who will read the very able address of Judge Gest, delivered before the Law Academy of Philadelphia, recently, will realize the urgency of that need. The bill provides that the commission shall serve without pay. One of the Commission shall be a judge of the Orphan's Court of Pennsylvania. The members comprising that Commission will, of course, be men of the highest calibre. It is unreasonable to expect that they will render their services gratuituously unless we provide them with ample means for revising the law. It does not follow that the entire appropriation need be spent, or will be spent. For one I have absolute confidence in the integrity of the men whom the Governor will appoint to this Commission. If the bill provided solely for codification, I would say, "Yes, the Legislative Reference Bureau is available," but inasmuch as it is a revision of the law, I believe the Commission to be appointed by the Governor should be men learned in the law, and men adapted for this purpose should be appointed.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 637, entitled:

Validating contracts bonds or obligations of or belonging to corporations of other states made entered into or acquired prior to the passage of an act entitled "An Act to regulate the doing of business in this Commonwealth by foreign corporations the registration thereof and service of process thereon and providing punishment and penalties for the violation of its provisions and repealing previous legislation on the subject" approved the eighth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and ten without such corporations first having established known places of business and designated authorized agents for the transaction of their business within this Commonwealth and providing for the enforcement of such contracts bonds or obligations upon the payments of a penalty and taxes to the Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Chester, Mr. Whitaker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WHITAKER. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARIG. I would like the sponsor of this bill to explain to the House the object of it.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, the object or the purpose of the bill is to enable foreign corporations which have failed to comply with the act of 1847 by registering and filing their certificate of location with the Secretary of the Commonwealth to sue on contracts and bonds which they have entered into provided they comply with the law and register and file their certificates, pay the taxes which would have become due if they had registered at the proper time, and by paying a fine or license fee of two hundred and fifty dollars to the Secretary of the Commonwealth. The same act, or an act of the same character, was passed in 1907 enabling foreign corporations, to sue on contracts entered into before that time, and the act of 1911 made the same provision concerning contracts entered into before 1911; but for the contracts entered into by foreign corporations between that time and this no provision has yet been made, and there seems to be no reason why contracts shall not be sued on if the provisions of the law are complied with and the taxes and penalty paid.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 653, entitled:

An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act to provide for State registration of nurses to establish a State Board of Examiners in connection therewith and to provide penalties for the violation of certain provisions regarding such registration" approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and nine providing further regulation as to applications for examination for registration of nurses and the fee chargeable therefor and providing for the making of reports of training schools for nurses whose competency for instruction is approved by the said board

Said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Willard, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLARD. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman to what extent it creates a greater hardship on the nurses to be admitted to practice under this bill than under the old bill?

Mr. WILLARD. Mr. Speaker, it does not create any more hardship, in that, it is just the same as it was before. It provides penalties for violations, and so on, and compels registration in the different training schools as passed upon by the Board of Examiners.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Willard, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WILLARD. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I only want to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia how this bill will affect a nurse who graduates in another State and comes to Pennsylvania to practice nursing, who has already passed the State Board in her State—whether she will be compelled to pass another examination in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WILLARD. Mr. Speaker, there is no discrimination in the case of a nurse already registered, coming from some other State. It has a reciprocity clause in it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

An Act amending the first section of an act approved the twenty-fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and seven entitled "An Act authorizing the Board of Public Charities to appoint two assistant general agents and prescribing their duties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire from the sponsor of this bill whether the provisions of this bill have any relation to the bill which was passed on third reading a few minutes ago, the Cox bill, which provides for the employment of two inspectors?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Absolutely none, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, then it seems to me as though these two acts were on the same subject, and we ought to know whether they are conflicting. I want to say frankly to the House, that I have not had time to examine the bill but it occurred to me just as the title was read that we just passed a bill, as I recall, providing for the appointment of two inspectors to visit prisons, et cetera, and providing for their payment. Now, here is a bill which provides for something similiar. We ought to be careful not to pass any legislation on the same subject which would conflict. The other bill, Mr. Speaker, provided for the appointment of two men.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I have endeavored to answer the gentleman's interrogatory, but he does not seem to understand my answer. The gentleman wants to know if a bill passed by you some fifteen or twenty minutes ago conflicts with the bill that is now before you for your consideration, and I have answered that it does not. While this bill, and the preceding bill of Mr. Cox of Philadelphia, are bills applying to the same department, the bill of Mr. Cox created two offices in that department, and provided for the payment of two additional men. That was absolutely necessary and has met with the approval of all our authorities. Now, in addition to that, additional work has been imposed upon two others of their men who are now employed there as agents and inspectors. You will realize from the very small force of men of the Department of Charities and the entire State of Pennsylvania to be covered by that force it was really necessary to have four additional men, but instead of that it was conceded by all of the authorities in power that the two men remaining there should have their salaries increased to the amount specified in my act in order that there might not be any additional positions created, and in order that those agents who are now men of experience, could travel throughout the State and visit the various State institutions. They are doing an excellent work. There has been, during all of the years of the Department, not one word of criticism, but on the other hand words of commendation for the work they are doing because of their force being so small, and that is the reason of this act. It does not conflict with the act of Mr. Cox and has nothing to do with it insofar as you are concerned. I hope you will vote for the measure.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, March 17th, 1915.

The House met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. F. W. Staley, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee that we are living in a golden age of inherited privileges; back of these privileges are the lives of heroic men. This day commemorates the birth of one who lived many centuries ago; one who performed deeds that have been emblazoned in history; who performed them for humanity, for religion, for the church and for God. Above all the heroes of the past stands the Man of Galilee, whose teachings have revolutionized the thought of the world and have regenerated the hearts of men and have become the principles of government. His teachings are uniting humanity into one great brotherhood over which rests the Fatherhood of God. May the lessons of the heroes of the past and may the teachings of the Man of Galilee be deeply impressed upon our minds, and may we so live that we may benefit our fellow-man and glorify God. We ask for Christ's sake. Amen.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill is what is known as the "Philadelphia Housing Bill." It is strictly a Philadelphia measure and affects no other part of the State. The bill in its original form was opposed by some of us from Philadelphia, but since the bill first appeared on the floor of this House, it has been so amended as to meet the objections of we who opposed it. Inasmuch as I was one of those who did oppose the bill in the first place, I want to call the attention of the House very briefly to some of the changes. In the first place we objected to a clause in the bill—I might say before I start out that the bill provided for a housing law and provided for a chief of housing and also created four other departments which were under the direction of the Department of Public Health and Charities a department having the care of hospitals, a department having charge of charities, a department of sanitation and a department of plumbing. Now under the old bill, each chief of each department was an absolute czar without any restrictions whatever. We, who opposed it in the first place, thought that this was too much power to put in the hands of one man, we therefore had an amendment inserted in the bill which provided that the four chiefs of the departments together with the Director of Public Health and Charities should comprise a bureau, which bureau would create rules governing the departments.

The necessity for a department such as a Department of Sanitation—the name carries the meaning with it—in a city like Philadelphia is obvious. This Department has charge of everythng that will need inspection other than hospital charities and housing. An objection that can be found to this Department was that it gave the Chief of the Bureau of Sanitation charge of the plumbing without putting any restriction upon the men who would be actual inspectors of the plumbing. For that reason we felt that there should be a clause inserted in there for a Division of Plumbing and House Draining which should be in charge of an expert and which should be comprised of plumbers who had complied with the law with respect to examination and certified as registered plumbers. That was accordingly done.

As far as the housing was concerned, there were some changes inserted, some failure cut out; for instance a provision which removed charitable organizations from any inspection. Now, why in the world people who are supposedly in favor of sanitary housing conditions should object to having their places inspected, I do not know. But as the bill now stands all the charitable institutions, as well as the houses for correction, are subject to the same rules and regulations as tenement houses and lodging houses. That is, all that I mean are subject to the same rules and to the same inspection. It is a good bill, gentlemen. We who live in the city and are confronted with this tenement house problem every day—the district from which I have come contains possibly more or as many tenements as any other one section of Philadelphia, what little knowledge I have of tenement conditions I have gotten at first hand. I feel the necessity for the regulation of tenements. On the other hand, I do not think that an absolutely drastic set of rules, which are nonenforcible and cannot be complied with, is a proper regulation for the tenement. Under this act we will have a set of rules which will care for the poor, a set of rules which will prevent the abuse of those who are compelled to live in tenements and, at the same time, are not so drastic as to put a poor man's house entirely beyond his reach. Now, gentlemen, we Philadelphians ask you to support this bill. We think it is a good thing and we want it passed.

Mr. EBY. Mr. Speaker, I was glad to be able to listen to the beautiful cloak and to the beautiful dress put upon this bill under consideration at this time. House Bill No. 295 is a bill with a record in this House, gentlemen, and even though I stand alone I shall not allow the polished and eloquent gentleman from Philadelphia to deter me from registering my objections in the few simple homespun words I have to utter. It is a characteristic of Perry countians to say what they have to say in a manner that you cannot help but understand where we are at. I am against this House Bill for two reasons: First, because when I first dropped into a meeting of the Public Health and Sanitation Committee two bills were about to be considered or reported—whatever they call it, I do not know. I asked what they were and was told in a peculiar, short way and in a manner in which my spirit of resentment came straight back. There is nothing about me that will be caught with a bullet in the back. If I get hit it will be from a bullet coming from in front, as far as I am concerned, because I will go on even though I stand alone. I do not like the provisions of this bill. A friend of mine from Philadelphia, who is not interested in Philadelphia politcs, made the journey from Phladelphia to Harrisburg and asked me to try to defeat House Bills Nos. 294 and 295. He told me that in the City of Philadelphia there were conditions existing that were not as they should be; there were housing conditions there, gentlemen, that needed attention. There was a bill passed by this House in the session of 1913 with 177 votes for and 2 against it, after many hearings had been given on the bill. It was sent to the Senate and passed without a dissenting voice and taken to the Governor and signed and then taken to the City of Philadelphia to apply and on account of gang methods in Philadelphia they failed to comply with the law. He went over this matter quite carefully. Afterwards I went to Philadelphia and went over the grounds there known as the tenements.

I do not know anything about tenements, practically, but I have seen a few, but in our county we have but one tenement and that is what makes me feel a little hesitation in getting on the floor and speaking on this bill but I feel that the facts should be known to you. Last week when this bill was before you it was defeated. It was afterwards reconsidered and it went back to the committee and the gentlemen who voted for tha reconsideration of that bill were under the impression it would be recommitted for a hearing which would have been just and proper. If this is a just bill, as has been pointed out by my friend from Philadelphia if this bill has merit, why didn't we have a hearing on it? Why didn't they allow the House Committee to meet and have a hearing on this bill? The time for partisan legislation is past. Iam not here as a follower of any particular clique. Now I don't like the forty-one votes from Philadelphia to push through any legislation I have and for that reason come to me and force me into voting for this bill because legislation I have may suffer if I don't vote for it. These are things that happen on the floor of this House and that you have seen on the floor of this House since we have been here. Everybody is interested, and why? Because it is a pet measure they want to get through. I want to say to you gentlemen that if you do your duty and stand up like men that have backbone and take a lot and go forward in the face of opposition you will not pass this bill but vote it down and give the people of Philadelphia an opportunity to try out the bill passed in 1913 and give them an opportunity to put it into effect.

They talk about the revision of this bill, that they have amended this bill so that it meets all requirements. I notice the first amendment in section 2, line 1, they struck out "each of the bureaus created by this act," and then inserted "the Director of the Department of Public Health and Charities together with the Chiefs of the Bureaus herein created shall constitute a Board which Board" is hereby authorized, etc. Now, I guess that is not right. They struck that out. Now some of these lawyers here may be going to have a good time with me but I am going to have my time first. I know where I stand and will tell you where I stand, too. In section 2, lines 19, 20 and 21 they strike out "Director of the Department of Public Health and Charities of cities of the firstclass and the Board of Health." That is under the first bill and that is what it should be. Now it shall be the "Select Councils of cities of the first-class." If I am correctly informed, gentlemen of the House, this Select Council, into whose hands this power should be given are this day standing under an indictment. I do not know if that is a fact or not but I am informed that they are under indictment for contempt of Court. If that is the case it would be a nice state of affairs to leave the City Council tell the Court they don't have any say this time.

Gentlemen of the House I have a iittle data here I would like to present at this time. I feel deeply on this bill and would like to win this fight as a man does not like to lose his first fight. I have been informed that these gentlemen from Philadelphia represent certain real estate interests there. I have been informed that the real estate interests tnat they represent comprise a party of three persons who have constituted themselves a board of inquiry, trying to have the bill of 1913 repealed and they in turn represent about one hundred and seventy houses against which this day there are one hundred and eighty complaints for unsanitary conditions. Now is it any wonder, gentlemen, if you want to be fair and square, that if some person comes to you and you own a house and there is something unsanitary about the house and that man, in the interest of the community and the health of the people, tells you you must repair that unsanitary condition, don't you feel antagonistic to him and don't you feel like kicking him out if you have the power? It is just such people that are interested in the repeal of this bill. Gentlemen I thank you for your attention and I hope that you will see your way clear to defeat this bill once for all.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am not going to detain you very long with any remarks which I shall make on the bill which is now before us for consideration. When this bill first came up before this House I opposed it and voted against it because I felt that there were some provisions in the bill which did not conform with fair treatment. The most notable provision to which I objected in the bill in its original shape was the concentration of power in the hands of one individual. Now, the Housing Code of 1913 was even more drastic than the original bill which is now before the House, prior to its amendment. In the code of 1913 the power to make rules and regulations touching matters covered by that act vested in the Chief of the Department, but even did not stop there. The Director of the Department of Public Health and Charities could over-ride any rule or regulation which that Chief might make, thereby vesting an arbitrary power in the head of that Department. When the Housing Code was before this House in the session of 1913, of which I had the honor to be a member, there was no objection to it. There were some hearings. It was a new matter and no one even at those hearings interposed an objection to any provisions of that bill. Of course, the bill passed both Houses of this Legislature and was enacted into law; but then when they started to put the bill into operation it became very apparent that it consisted of tremendously drastic provisions which practically drove out of business the people who were engaged in the tenement and apartment house business in the City of Philadelphia.

Now this bill applies only to the City of Philadelphia. Therefore, when this session of the legislature came into existence this bill was offered in original form as a substitute, but it also contained, what to my mind was an unfair provision, in that it placed in the hands of the chiefs of the divisions created by this bill the right to make rules and regulations to govern them and thereby concentrated the power in one man.

I objected to the bill in that form because I do not believe in the concentration of power in the hands of one individual. When this bill was defeated originally and then recommitted the bill was amended so that the power to make rules and regulations should be in the hands of the chiefs of all the divisions created by this bill, together with the director of the Department of Public Safety. These four chiefs, together with the director, constituted a board that should make the rules and regulations. That eliminated the main and chief objection I had to the bill. Now my friend from Perry County has told this House that there is some difficulty in Philadelphia which requires and necessitates action upon this bill at this time, that there is a necessity for haste. He is mistaken when he says that there are any politicians or members of council under indictment.

Under the original bill, which came in here as a reform measure, it gave the authority to appoint a number of inspectors, not less than one hundred, irrespective of the needs of tne community. That was a mandatory provision in the bill. The council of the City of Philadelphia, objecting to such a mandatory provision, irrespective of the needs and requirements of the community, did not provide for the payment of the salaries of the inspectors appointed under a reform administration, and thereupon they were taken into court and the question was agrued there. The judge who heard that argument decided that it was a mandatory provision and that council must make a provision for such payment, giving them a certain time to do it, irrespective of the necessity of that number of inspectors.

Now, sir, the reason for this bill being presented to this Legislature and being upon the calendar at this time, is to eliminate that objectionable feature. Here only such inspectors as are necessary to carry out the provisions of the act shall be appointed, and that is a matter to be determined upon by the chiefs of the departments, together with the director of the department of public health and sanitation in Philadelphia.

Now, all of the Philadelphia members, as far as I am able to learn, are a unit in the support of this bill. It applies only to Philadelphia, and is of no interest outside of the county of Philadelphia. With the only objectionable feature of the original bill eliminated, we stand as a unit in the support of this bill, and I would ask the members of this House to join with us in the support of it.

Mr. GEISER. Mr. Speaker, I voted no when this bill was first considered, but I am now going to vote aye. I am thoroughly in sympathy with what Mr. Wilson and Mr. Forster have said. They know what they want in Philadelphia. Give Philadelphia what it wants, and give Northumberland what Northumberland wants.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 516, as follows:

purpose for which said Board of Game Commissioners was created

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I note that this bill provides for an appropriation of three hundred and thirty-four thousand and eight hundred dollars. That appropriation contains, as I figure it out, a provision for salaries amounting to one hundred and thirty-nine thousand dollars. The appropriations here in 1913, if I am correct, for like services were about forty-eight thousand dollars. Some one ought to explain to this House thoroughly the necessity for the increase in salaries and the increase in the number of game protectors and why the salary of a game protector should be raised from nine hundred dollars to twelve hundred dollars and why other offices should be created and why the salaries of those that had previously been four thousand dollars should now be raised to five, and from eighteen hundred to two thousand dollars. If there is a good reason for all this, I am willing to vote for the bill. I don't want to appear mean in taking care of the administration but I cannot see any good reason for this increase in salary unless it can be explained to me.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Delaware, I want to say that the increase in the amount of the appropriation for game warden is due very largely to the fact that we have just passed bills increasing the burden upon the different game wardens and increasing their duties. Heretofore, the bounties that had been paid out to the county commissioners was taken by the justices of the peace; that was their duty; the bill we passed yesterday puts that burden upon the game protectors. It is necessary, in order to take this out of the county commissioners' hands, to allow the game warden to have this duty and therefore it was necessary to increase the number of game wardens and this is one of the reasons why we ask for an increase in the appropriation. This appropriation, as I understand it, is the money that is paid into the treasury by the license that is paid by the hunters in the State.There is no money taken out of the State Treasury. The Game Department is self-supporting. the money that is paid in by the license pays this increase of salary and is made so that we can get better men in this Department. We ask for this appropriation because the game commissioner who has made a life-time study of this subject is entitled to an increase in salary and we ask for an increase in the salaries of the wardens in order to get better men to carry out the work to be done by game wardens to enforce the game laws in Pennsylvania. This has been requested by the men who are interested in Pennsylvania.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, realizing that our State pays to a trooper in the State Police only seventy-five dollars a month, who is on duty every day, and who is not only a police officer but a game warden, and that Department, since its creation, has made over one thousand arrests for violation of the game laws, and they do it for seventy-five dollars a month and that is considered proper payment for them. That subject was thoroughly discussed in the last Legislature and it was decided to be ample pay. I cannot see why the game wardens who practically walk around most of the year, doing very litle, according to past experience, and I repeat I cannot see why their salaries should be increased from nine hundred dollars a year to twelve hundred dollars a year. It don't seem to me to be following out the policy of the Party pledges of the Party that I am connected with. I am willing to vote for that bill if they will reduce it to nine hundred dollars; or I am willing to vote for the bill if they can show the necessity for fifty instead of twenty game wardens. Knowing that at the present time every constable in the State has the power of a game warden and knowing that the Constabulary of the State are also acting game wardens and knowing all this it does seem to me that after we have gotten this money into our treasury for a certain purpose that instead of using it for another purpose that we use it for the repopulating in the different game preserves of quadrupeds, mammals and birds in the different sections of our State. Instead we now take three hundred and thirty-four thousand dollars of that money and put it into salaries. In my judgment, that is not following out the policy of the party pledges and I will not support the bill in that position unless the salaries are brought down on a par with men who are appointed in our State on the Constabulary and who work every day of the year as State police. Under the present law the game wardens get nine hundred dollars, and I don't think that their salary ought to be increased knowing the services that they give to the public, so far as my experience goes, and I question whether the increase of the number is necessary, from twenty to fifty, when we know that every constable in every township and all of our State Constabulary give their assistance and I believe that the twenty game wardens provided by the Game Commission is sufficient.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, as the sponsor of this bill, I desire to correct any misapprehension that may possibly have been caused by the remarks of the gentleman from Delaware. In the first place, this bill does not in any way conflict with the State Constabulary and there should be no question of conflict of the State Constabulary raised whatever. It is true that this bill provides for fifty game wardens but the idea is that these men shall be men who are trained not only for the arrest of people who are violating game laws but also for the propagation and development of the game of this Commonwealth. I drew this bill having absolutely no interest whatever in game; I know nothing whatever about it from that standpoint. It was handed to me by the Council for the State Hunters' Association and has the unqualified support of every qualified sportman of Pennsylvania. For these reasons I ask you to give your support to this bill.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I was very much surprised, indeed, to hear our good friend from Delaware take this opportunity of making an attack on this game bill in order to speak on the Constabulary Bill in which he is interested. As the members of this House know he is the sponsor of the bill advocating legislation on the State Constabulary and I don't wish to accuse him of taking this opportunity to make an extra talk on his own bill but it does sound, in what he says, that way and leads me to think that may be possible. I think that when the gentleman from Delaware has a bill to raise the salary of the State Police, if any member of this House would suggest when his bill is presented instead of giving them twelve hundred dollars, they shall be given,—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order. The Constabulary Bill is not under consideration and it is out of order to discuss the Constabulary Bill at this time.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Armstrong will confine himself to Bill No. 516.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, if I am compelled to confine myself to Bill No. 516, I haven't anything further to say, because the gentleman from Delaware didn't say anything about Bill No. 516; he spoke about the State Constabulary Bill. This raising of salaries of every fellow who comes in here and who wanted his salary increased has been taking place from the judges down to the janitor and the gentleman from Delaware never raised his voice in defense of that or in opposition to it. Here comes an appropriation of our own money; in the other bills we were appropriating money of the State; but here is our own money and it seems to me that we have a right to appropriate it for this purpose. I ask you to consider this bill favorably.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, as my friend has called into this argument the question of a bill that I introduced here, I wish to say that I simply introduced that bill for a Department and the gentlemen know what my position is.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order. The gentleman is again talking on the Constabulary Bill.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman from Delaware will confine himself to Bill No. 516.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I simply wish to call attention of the House that the duties of the State Constabulary not only was the duties to act as police officers in keeping the peace, but acting as game wardens of the State.

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information. I would like to have the Chair inform me which bill we are proceeding under—the Game Warden Bill or the Constabulary Bill?

The SPEAKER. The bill under consideration is House Bill No. 516, File Folio 2697.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, indirectly I stated to the House that every constable in the State, every member of the State Police, was a game warden. We are discussing the salaries of game wardens and what is a wise thing for this Legislature to do in fixing the salaries of the game protectors, which is practically the same proposition. I have a right to draw comparisons to show what has been paid for services of a similar character by the State, as an illustration, as to whether these salaries should be increased. I have called the attention of the House to the fact that to enforce these game laws of our State, if we are to rely entirely upon the police power, upon these fifty men, then we had better increase them to two hundred instead of fifty but knowing that every constable and every member of the State Constabulary is also doing that police work. We ought to have some light on the question when you say that salaries should be increased other than that the State Sportsmen's Association has concluded that that ought to be. I presume if you were to ask the sportsmen why, they would say that we want gentlemen on the force; we want them at good salaries; we do not want the people that are usually called the working class. I am calling your attention to the fact that it involves over one hundred thousand dollars in salaries. Would it not be wiser if it should be used in another way, or else the surplus go back to the State for our hospitals and our schools? This would be perfectly proper because it is the State's property. We had the right if we saw fit, to charge each man a dollar, and it did not mean necessarily that in a carrying out the idea of the administration and the idea of the public in propagating and protecting the game that we increase the salaries so as to get rid of the balance. That is a fit argument to bring before a Legislature.

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I am familiar with the wild life of Pennsylvania. (Laughter.) Gentlemen, I refer to bird and animal life. I am familiar with House Bill No. 516 and I contributed and expect to contribute to this money. The gentleman from Delaware, a gentleman in whom I place a great deal of confidence and hold in the highest esteem, called attention to the fact that there were too many new positions created. I want to state that I was in favor of creating new positions because after going to the expense and trouble that we do to have game introduced into Pennsylvania, and planted, as it were, in the Game Preserves, it is not protected and men kill game out of season. We want the law obeyed. We want the law enforced. We do not want game killed out of season. Now in regard to salaries, one hundred dollars a month is not a particularly fat salary, although I am fundamentally opposed to the boosting of salaries. That was a point that appealed to me. I was not very enthusiastic about increasing salaries, although it comes out of the fund that does not cost the Commonwealth a penny. It comes out of the Hunter's license fees and the Game Commission thought by paying one hundred dollars a month we will get good, faithful men who will see that the law is enforced. Surely, every man who likes to go into the field when the leaves begin to turn appreciates the wild life of Pennsylvania and wants to see it conserved as much as possible.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Baldwin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BALDWIN. Surely, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman made the statement, if I understood it correctly, that he was in favor of this money going to the schools and hospitals of this State.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is mistaken, I did not make that statement.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I will leave that to the House.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I will repeat what I stated if the gentleman will let me.

Mr. MILLIRON. Yes, sir.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I stated that if this department was properly managed and organized, and there was any surplus it was better to use the surplus for other purposes.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, the question I wanted to ask the gentleman from Delaware, is this. You want this House to understand that the money in that fund by law can be appropriated for schools and other purposes.

Mr. BALDWIN. If the department sees that it has more money than it needs for the department, after being fully operated, if there is a balance there would be no trouble to get the Legislature to put it in some other department.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the statement which the gentleman from Delaware has just made, I would read to you a section of the Act of 1913 creating this very fund (Pamphlet Laws of 1913, page 91) section 12 provides, "All license fees collected under the provisions of this act, and all fines and penalties imposed and collected for violation of any of its provisions shall be paid to the State Treasurer as hereinbefore designated, who shall keep the moneys thus collected as a fund separate and apart solely for the purpose of wild bird and game protection and for the purchase and propagation of game under the supervision of the Board of Game Commissioners of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the payment of bounties under the provisions of the law." Now then, Mr. Speaker, I have just been informed that in the year 1913 there was collected under the provisions of this section of the act the sum of $305,000.00, and in the year 1914 the sum of $290,000.00, making all told in this fund, the Hunters' license fund, the sum of $595,000.00. Now this bill does not call for the appropriation of all of that sum, but simply a portion of it, leaving a balance for the other purposes of this act of 1913, namely to pay the bounties and for such other purposes as may be included therein. Furthermore, this bill does not entirely call for the expenditure of all of this $334,000.00 covering a period of two years for the payment of salaries, a large portion of it is for the propagation and conservation of game.

Mr. RICH. Mr. Speaker, my impression is that the fish wardens, fire wardens and the rangers also as a part of their duties act as game wardens. And it seems to me that the paying of salaries of this kind to the game wardens is going to raise a great deal of dissatisfaction among the rangers, foresters and the fish and fire wardens, and the meagre salaries that they receive. The rangers' duties are much more arduous than the duties required of the game wardens, and I think that the salaries of these others might be raised, and a compromise made between the salaries offered here to the game wardens would be more equitable and just. I think that this bill ought to be recommited and the other wardens taken into consideration in making this increase.

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wobensmith.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask what the duties of the game warden are as to whether he gives his entire time to the work of the game warden or just a part of his time.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, all of the time.

Mr. MEARKLE. Is it not a fact that he gives but one or two days a week attention to the duties of his office.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, why no, there is no ground whatever for such an assumption. If a man is engaged as a game protector at such a salary, he would naturally have to give his entire time and attention to it.

Mr. MEARKLE. That is the intent and purpose.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. No question about it.

Mr. BROSIUS. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to take up the time of the Houte at any length, I only want to say this: This bill was thoroughly discussed before the Commitee on Game. I do not believe there was a dissenting voice from the members of the committee on this bill. The committee based their opinions and their decisions on information that the chairman and other members of the committee received from the Game Associations and Wild Life Associations all over the State. This money was paid into the Treasury, as has already been stated, by the hunters, each paying one dollar license. This money was presumed to belong to the people who are engaged in the game business and the propagation of game and the preservation of game in this State. And the opinion of all the game associations was in favor of a bill of this kind. It has been stated by the gentleman from Delaware and other people that $1,200.00 a year is too much for the game wardens. Now, let that be as it may, we do not think so; we think that $1,200.00 to a man that is fit to be a game warden and atends to his duties is very small pay.

Now we do not have any game warden in our county but we have a very good game warden in the adjoining county. All of the game wardens that I am acquainted with have not only been spending every hour of the day but a part of the night so that the inquiry that was made by the gentleman from Allegheny is answered. To him I want to say further this, that it takes the whole time of the game warden to do his duties, and we know that every man that is asked for in this bill will do his duty. At the present time, I believe that there are only about thirty, and the secretary of the Game Committee and the Game Commitee have notified me that they do not have nearly sufficient men at the present time to attend to the duties that need to be attended to by the game wardens. I think that twelve hundred dollars is very small pay for a man that has to work like a game warden has to work put in his full time. Another thing if the other people that have been referred to by the different members who spoke on this question are not receiving the required pay, that is not the fault of the Game Commission. If these people are not receiving pay enough, there is some way of increasing their pay, and the people whose business it is can take the necessary steps to do that. Now, I do not wish to take any more time but I hope that every member of this House will vote in favor of this bill.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, I want to say that I am in accord with the spirit of this bill. I have listened with much interest to what the gentlemen have said on both sides of this question, but I want to call the attention of the House to one thing that has not been mentioned in regard to this matter and that is this, that under the license act of 1913 fifty per cent. of all moneys collected from these licenses are to go for the payment of bounties and the balance was to go to the payment of game wardens and put out game in the State preserves. Now, gentlemen, I take it that you cannot touch the fifty per cent. under this salary increase business, and if you take this much salary out of the other fifty per cent. of it we will have no moneys for the protection of game, that is the part that appeals to me. Now, gentlemen, it seems to me that there is only one thing that we want, that is more game in this State. We have made laws to kill game and licensed the kiling of it, and we are spending a lot of money and ought to put some back in the counties from which the game is taken, and if we use all the money for these officers, I do not see where we are going to get the money to put the game back.

Mr. BROSIUS. Mr. Speaker, just a few words in reference to the remarks made by the gentleman from Wyoming. This bill does not propose to take fifty per cent. of the money paid in by the hunters license to pay bounties. This bill, if you read it over carefully, you will see that it does not propose to pay out the one-half of the money paid in on hunters licenses for salaries. There is a large proportion of that appropriated for the propagation of game and taking care of it.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, the question that was raised by my friend from Delaware county in regard to the constables being game wardens—I want to say that is true; that the constable or any officer can perform this duty and is supposed to do this duty under the law; but the reason we are asking for this increased amount and increased salary is because we have imposed new burdens upon these people. The constable is not allowed, under the bill passed the other day, to collect these bounties. Herein is where the difficulty comes; he is supposed to be a man that understands birds and the different animals and upon that requisite alone he is to devote his entire attention; and we therefore think that when a man has to devote his entire time to a thing of this kind that he is entitled to be recompensed for it; and he must be a man capable of filling the office before being appointed ;and the bill is drafted that way, and we ask you gentlemen to help us out on this measure.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, there has been a great deal said pro and con on this question but, gentlemen, I wish to state to each man within my hearing that I go to the woods as often as any man that ever walks. In my time I have done considerable hunting. I am known as a hunter; but, gentlemen, I never in my entire hunting experience found a game warden in the woods. I have time and time again run across a number of State troopers.

Here is a little pamphlet called "In the Open." I do not know who is behind this, but they take pride in calling our attention to the following facts: This is compiled up to February 1st—I presume this year. "The total amount collected from hunters' licenses is $604,225. The amount paid in bounties"—each and every county listed separately, "is $187,961." Now, if we add to that this appropriation of $334,000, then it brings it up to approximately $500,000. Whether or not that does not go over the fifty per cent.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up House Bill No. 432, File Folio 1803, on page 7, of to day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 432, entitled:

An Act relating to the administration of the estate of an intestate decedent

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendment for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 3, by striking out the words "and fifty" in line 2.

The bill as amended was then agreed to on third reading.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as this is merely a striking out in the bill making it apply only to counties of one hundred thousand inhabitants instead of one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants, it is perfectly proper to go on and consider the bill at this time. I may say just this, with regard to the bill, without taking up any unnecessary time, that it only relates to counties having a population of less than one hundred thousand people and only relates to affidavits in the matter of proving the death of a decedent, the swearing of the bail or sureties and the taking of the oaths of office as administrators in the cases of intestates. I have tried to make this bill to apply only to the country districts. I know of no objections. If there are any I would be pleased to have them stated at this time. I hope the gentlemen of the House will vote for the bill.

NAYS—3.

Christman, Diefenderfer, Mangan,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call up House Bill No. 483, File Folio 2057, on page 8, of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 483, entitled:

An Act defining paint to prevent deception in sale of paint to provide for true labels for and advertising of the same when offered for sale for the enforcement of this act by the Secretary of Agriculture and penalties for the violation of same

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, with pleasure.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know whether this bill as it is now written will apply to storekeepers who know nothing about the contents of paint when they buy it from the manufacturers, or whether it applies only to the manufacturers?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I would state that the purpose of this bill could not apply or attach a responsibility to the storekeeper without he had knowledge that he was dealing in a spurious article. If he had that knowledge, of course he would be punished for so doing, but if he was furnished with paint so labeled in accordance with the provisions of this bill, and it was found that the original container had not been tampered with, of course no responsibility or liability could attach to the storekeeper, but would attach solely to the manufacturer.

Mr. SHOWALTER. I am in hearty accord with the intent of the sponsor of this bill, but I fear very much when it comes to be construed by the courts that they will not take the position that the sponsor takes. The Act of 1897 which pertains to the regulation, manufacture and sale of vinegar, reads as follows:

"From and after the passage of this act no person, firm or corporate body shall manufacture for sale, offer for sale, or expose for sale, sell or deliver, or have in his, her or their possession with intent to sell, a certain brand of vinegar."

Now, that act apparently was passed with the idea of including only the manufacturer, so that the manufacturer of vinegar would not impose upon the public, and when he branded it a certain way he was responsible for it, but to my certain knowledge, in two instances, the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture has construed this act to apply to the man who buys this vinegar,—the storekeeper—as well as the manufacturer.

Now, it is not fair to the man who buys from the manufacturer to be held responsible for the ingredients that that particular substance contains. I am willing that this bill should apply to the manufacturer, the man who knows what the contents of his material is, that he puts upon the market, but it does seem to me that it is not quite fair that it should apply to the storekeeper, the man who knows absolutely nothing about the contents of that particular paint. If the construction of this act will apply only to the manufacturer, the man who knows what is in that paint, I am with this bill, but if the courts should apply it also to the innocent storekeeper, I say this is a bill that should not pass. If Mr. McNichol can assure us that that will be the construction of the Act, or if he will so amend it that it will apply only to the manufacture, I am with him on this bill.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, this bill is a protection to the dealer, that is, the storekeeper, also it is a protection to the man who uses the paint, and it is for the purpose of affording a protection to the storekeeper, that it will render him immune from any imposition on the part of the manufacturer. If there is a violation, as I said before, without the knowledge of the storekeeper, the responsibility attaches solely and particularly to the manufacturer. My friend need have no apprehension as to a hardship being worked upon the storekeeper because the provisions of this bill, when read carefully, show that it is a protection for not only the storekeeper, but also for the man who uses the paint.

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, I am heartily in favor of the passage of this bill and I hope it passes without a dissenting vote. It is a good bill because it protects the man who should be protected and the man who uses the paint. Section 4 is no hardship on the dealer because the dealer knows the quality of the paint he uses. The storekeeper will be smart enough to know what he is buying and so he will know what he is selling.

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. Speaker, the painters of my town approached me a week ago and asked me to support this bill on the strength of the argument that they would then know what they are purchasing. The would know in case it is spurious or deleterious. They said "This is a good bill; put it through; we want to know what we are buying."

Mr. ALCORN. Mr. Speaker, I am interested in this bill This is our only protection and I am interested in it as a man who uses paint. I am one of the men who use it and under these conditions we are able to decide between a good and an inferior paint. I am heartily in favor of this bill and hope you will vote for it.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I should like to know if section 4 of this bill will not make the merchant as much responsible for its misbranding as the manufacturer? I am in favor of this bill, but perhaps that would be necessary to know.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, as I stated before, the storekeeper has no responsibility attached to him if he has no guilty knowledge. The purpose of this bill is not to go after the minnow but the big fish.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call the attention of the House to the language in section 4 which reads as follows: "It shall be unlawful to sell or offer for sale any paint which is falsely advertised as to the ingredients of such paint or as to the address of the manufacturer, distributor thereof or of the persons for whom the same was manufactured."

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, it shall be unlawful to sell or offer for sale with a guilty knowledge. That is the interpretation; that is an inference that would naturally be drawn from a reading of the act.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I suggest postponing it for the present. I know the gentleman from Philadelphia don't desire to bring the man who sells this into the criminal court; I know that he don't, but I do disagree with him as to the effect of the bill; I know it should not get on the Statute Books in the form it is now in. I am sure he will agree to put an amendment in his bill which would make it perfectly clear.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, after the enactment of this legislation there will be no manufacture of a spurious article. Provisions have been made in this bill for those that have now a stock of paint on hand and wish to get rid of it; that is, they would not be effected by it. I think that my friends on the floor of this House are unduely apprehensive as to the effect of this law upon the storekeepers. I claim that this proposed legislation is a protection for the storekeeper as well as a protection for the men that use the paint.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill further.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know whether it would be possible to bring a prosecution under this bill, as it is now worded, against a merchant who handles paint which is labeled different from what the ingredients really are, which is misbranded and he handling it innocently not knowing that it is not properly labeled?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, the man would have to be proven to have a guilty knowledge. Where there was an innocent handling of an article and it would not be within the providence of the handler to know the contents, he could not be prosecuted, but the manufacturer or person who sold it to him could be.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, my experience has been to the contrary to which I alluded a little while ago, in reference to the vinegar act. A gentleman from Pittsburgh had some concern out there that was making a spurious brand of vinegar; a merchant bought that vinegar in good faith and it so happened that the analysis of the vinegar was not as the label showed it to be. An agent of the Dairy and Food Commission came along and analyzed it and suit was brought against the merchant and there was recovered fifty dollars fine against him and the costs. That merchant was innocent, yet under the wording of the vinegar act, which is similar to this act, he was held responsible and I fear that this act will work the same effect.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, in order to save the time of the House I will say that my disposition is to accede to the requests of my fellow members' suggestion that has been made, that the possibilities that the insertion in section 4 of the word "knowingly" will be approved by those who are opposed to this bill, and I would therefore ask unanimous consent for the postponement of the bill at this time in order to amend it to meet with the approval of the opposition.

The SPEAKER. Hearing no objection, unanimous consent is given.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 694 (Senate Bill No. 180), entitled:

NAY—1.

Barnett,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO INVESTIGATION OF CHARGES AGAINST JUDGE UMBEL.

The SPEAKER. The Chair asks unanimous consent of the House to offer the following resolution which was handed to the Chair and which the Clerk will read.

The Clerk then twice read the resolution as follows:

HOUSE RESOLUTION.

In the House of Representatives, March 17th, 1915.

Whereas, On the twenty-eighth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirteen there was presented to the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania by one, H. S. Dumbauld, a petition asking for the appointment of a committee to inquire into and concerning the official conduct of Robert E. Umbel, otherwise known and designated as R. E. Umbel, President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the Fourteenth Judicial District of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania comprising the County of Fayette; and

Whereas, Upon receipt of the petition proceedings were initiated for the purpose of determining the truth or falsity of the accusations against said R. E. Umbel and a special committee of five was appointed to investigate the same, which committee held various hearings in Fayette County and elsewhere, but on account of the adjournment of the General Assembly was prevented from completing the investigation and reported to the House, whereupon the committee was discharged with the thanks of the House and the matter was continued until the present session of the General Assembly; and

Whereas, Since the beginning of the present session of the General Assembly charges of a like nature were prepared by the said H. S. Dumbauld against the said R. E. Umbel, and a petition prepared asking for the appointment of a committee to investigate the judicial conduct of the said R. E. Umbel with a view ultimately to impeachment, which proceedings, however, were not prosecuted and the petition not presented; and

Whereas, There having appeared recently in the public prints of Pennsylvania allegations of a corrupt bargain and agreement between the said R. E. Umbel and the said H. S. Dumbauld to the effect that the charges against R. E. Umbel had been withdrawn and were not intended to be prosecuted and continued at the present session of the General Assembly and that in consideration of the withdrawal of the said prosecution and charges and in consideration of the forbearance of the said H. S. Dumbauld to continue the investigation and press his charges the said R. E. Umbel agreed to resign his office of Judge in the Fourteenth Judicial District so as to bring about the election of his successor in the year one thousand nine hundred seventeen, and

Whereas, Such a corrupt bargain and agreement as entered into as aforesaid between the said parties with the intention as alleged in the public prints would constitute grave misconduct in office on the part of the said R. E. Umbel and show the said R. E. Umbel to be entirely unfit to hold the said high judicial office and render it imperative that a person guilty of such misconduct should be removed from office as a detriment to impartial justice and to public morals, and

Whereas, If a bargain and agreement of so grave and corrupt a nature were allowed to be entered into with impunty by those holding office of Judge, public confidence in the integrity of our judiciary would be shattered beyond repair, and the whole fabric of our judicial system seriously affected, therefore

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, That a committee of five members of the House be appointed by the Speaker to investigate the truth or falsity of the corrupt bargain and agreement alleged to have been entered into by the said R. E. Umbel, President Judge of the Fourteenth Judicial District of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania comprising the County of Fayette, and one, H. S. Dumbauld according to the tenor of the serious charges hereinafter made and about to be made against the said R. E. Umbel were to be withdrawn by the said H. S. Dumbauld and in consideration thereof the said R. E. Umbel is to resign his office of Judge in time to allow his successor to be elected in the year one thousand nine hundred seventeen, and if the committee advise that a corrupt bargain and agreement has been entered into as aforesaid the committee is instructed to forthwith prepare and exhibit to this House articles of impeachment against the said R. E. Umbel, Judge of the said District in accordance with the provisions of Article six of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER. This resolution was offered by the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Sinclair, it being in the nature of impeachment proceedings, the Chair refers the same to the Committee on Judiciary General.

RESOLUTION NO. 10.

Mr. BARNETT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up Resolution No. 10.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the resolution.

The resolution was read as follows:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 10.

Whereas During the Civil War this Commonwealth was twice threatened by an invasion of the Confederate forces under General Lee namely at Antietam in one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two and at Gettysburg in one thousand eight hundred and sixty three and

Whereas at the urgent appeal of President Lincoln the Governor of Pennsylvania Andrew G. Curtin in both of said years called upon cities of Pennsylvania to enlist in the defense of the State and

Whereas It is generally admitted that the Emergency Men of Pennsylvania answering the call of Governor Curtin were potential factors in this terrible crisis and

Whereas Neither the State nor the Nation has shown to these brave defenders of Pennsylvania the proper appreciation of their services when at the call of the Governor during the days of one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two and one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three they left their homes and firesides and hastened to the defense of their State and

Whereas In many of the encounters that ensued after the enlistment of these Emergency Men these men bore themselves bravely and fully answered every demand made upon them in the line of patriotic duty and

Whereas Said Emergency Men were commanded by United States officers and marched under orders of the United States Government and under such commanders performed duties beyond the boundaries of Pennsylvania and

Whereas Now in their old age many of these men who at that time were willing to lay down their lives as a sacrifice for the good of their country are now facing the sunset of life in straightened circumstances and in many cases in need of that care and attention which the Government and the Commonwealth should provide and

Whereas The National Government heretofore in its acknowledgment of the debt we owe to the soldiers of the Civil War has cared for many men whose services rendered were not greater than those rendered by the Emergency Men of Pennsylvania therefore

Be it resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania urgently bring it to the attention of the Congress of the United States that adequate provision has not been made for the Emergency Men who enlisted during the Civil War particularly the Emergency Men of Pennsylvania and that through pension or otherwise they should be taken care of in their declining days that they cannot say that their country is unmindful of their services and ungrateful for what they did.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. BARNETT. Mr. Speaker, perhaps I ought to make some statement on this resolution on why it has been introduced. This resolution is an appeal to the United States Congress to take cognizance of the Emergency Men called out in 1862 and 1863 when Pennsylvania was threatened with invasion. They were called out at the urgent request of President Lincoln and by Andrew G. Curtin, the War Governor of Pennsylvania, who appears on the canvas back of the Speaker. In 1863 there were as many as fifty thousand men called out from Pennsylvania. The President called for one hundred thousand Emergency Men. They were called out from Pennsylvania, Ohio and one or two other States and fifty thousand of these responded from Pennsylvania. When the rebels were marching into Pennsylvania toward Harrisburg, had it not been for their services, the moral effect of these fifty thousand Emergency Men, the rebels would not have stopped at York, nor at Carlisle but would have come as far as Harrisburg and perhaps laid this city in ashes. They aimed also at Lancaster, Philadelphia and New York City. They came here as seasoned soldiers flushed with victory following Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville and they thought they could march any where and do almost anything. The country was alarmed. The younger members of this body here have perhaps but little knowledge of these things—second-hand knowledge, but some of the other members remember the fact very well. All who are old enough to have lived in 1863 and read the papers have a general knowledge of these facts.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to and (at 7:55 P. M.) the House adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THURSDAY, March 18th, 1915.

The House met at 10 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. F. W. Staley, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee for this beautiful sunlit morning; we cannot be too deeply grateful to Thee for the peace, plenty and prosperity that throbs in the heart of this great Nation, while beyond the seas great nations, and even empires are deadlocked in mighty conflict. We pray Thee, O God, if it is Thy will, that Thou wouldest separate them that they may no longer depopulate their homes of young manhood; may they no longer pile up a colossal indebtedness, and may they no longer create a taxation that shall be overwhelming, but may peace throb in every heart; may love take the place of hatred and bitterness; may the war cease because Thy providence has ruled it; may we, as a nation, be led by Thy Spirit, and we pray Thee that Thou wouldst bless the President of the United States and give him wisdom that he may perform the diplomatic duties in such a way as to be for the welfare of nations and for Thy glory. We ask, for Christ's sake. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Albee, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

An Act requiring aldermen, justices of the peace and committing magistrates to return a transcript of all information to the district attorney and clerk of quarter sessions within three days after the binding over or committal of any defendant charged with any crime or misdemeanor.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I see present in the House at this time an old colleague who for several years represented very efficiently and ably some of the districts in the western end of our State. He was so well thought of over in Mercer County that Allegheny County became jealous of him and they persuaded him to come over and live in Allegheny County and represent Allegheny County. He now enjoys the distinction of being one of the most noted newspaper men in the United States, with a national reputation, the Hon. Henry Hall. I think the House would be glad to have a few words from Col. Henry Hall. (Applause.)

ADDRESS OF COLONEL HENRY HALL.

Colonel HALL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it is customary for men on such occasions to say they are very much surprised. Sometimes it is true, and sometimes it is not. This is certainly a surprise to me. I feel very grateful to the gentleman from Delaware and to the House for the privilege of speaking to you and telling you how I recall with pleasure the sessions that I sat as a member of this body; how I esteemed it as an honor, and how glad I am to visit you even but for a few minutes.

I have sometimes thought, my friends, that the people of the State think too lightly of their legislators. It is customary for some people to speak slightingly of our lawmakers. It extends to the National Legislature as well. But when we come to the last analysis of the matter, my friends, all that laws can do for the peace, the prosperity and the glory of Pennsylvania, has been the work of our several Legislatures. I think that if the people stopped to think of this they would place a higher estimate upon their legislators, for no citizen can hold a higher office than to represent the people in the assembly that makes the laws which shall govern them.

I thank you, gentlemen, and I thank the Speaker for the courtesy extended. (Applause.)

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will take up first reading bills while the bills are being placed on the files.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair will take up as the next order of business bills on first reading.
